Russian Takes First Step Into Space

2 Cosmonauts Rocketed Into Orbit

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union claimed another great stride in the space race today, announcing that a cosmonaut for the first time had stepped out of a two-man space ship in orbit and then returned to it.

Soviet television stations showed a film of the feat with the curve of the earth and the blackness of deep space visible in the background.

Tass, the Soviet news agency, announced that Lt. Col. Alexei Leonov, 30, copilot of the spaceship Voskhod 2, went 5 meters (16.4 feet) from the capsule. He apparently was attached to it by a line or cable.

The official announcement said he made observations and then returned safely to the ship. He was wearing a special "autonomous life-support" suit, the announcement said.

With him in Voskhod 2 was Col. Pavel Belyayev, 39, the flight commander. Tass said a powerful rocket sent them into orbit at 10 a.m. (2 a.m. Eastern Standard Time) and Leonov stepped from the capsule 90 minutes later, at the end of the ship's first orbit of the earth.

"He successfully carried out the range of prescribed studies and observations and safely returned to the ship. Outside the ship and after returning to the ship, Leonov feels well," Tass said.

"Leonov's emergence into outer space, his work outside the ship and return to the ship were transmitted to the earth by means of the ship's television system and observed by a network of ground stations," Tass reported.

He was wearing a bulky suit and heavy helmet. What looked like cylinders of oxygen were on his back.

The cosmonaut did somersaults in space and floated in a loose, relaxed-appearing manner of weightlessness.

Voskhod 2 is the Soviet Union's second group-manned flight. It came five days before the United States is scheduled to launch its first in the Gemini program.

The American program also has scheduled an experimental "walk around in nothingness," but for a later flight.

The space ship blasted off a little more than five months after the first multiple-manned Voskhod (Sunrise) was launched with three men aboard.

Tass said according to preliminary data, Voskhod 2 is orbiting the earth every 90.9 minutes with a minimum distance from the earth of 108 miles and a maximum of 307 miles. It said the orbit angle to the equator is about 65 degrees, and "close to the prescribed orbit."

"Two-way radio communications are constantly maintained with the space ship," Tass said.

Belyayev and Leonov were reported feeling well and are carrying out their assigned research duties.

"The reports by the ship's commander show that the crew withstood satisfactorily the orbiting and transition to weightlessness," Tass said.

There was no immediate indication how long Voskhod 2 would remain in orbit. Voskhod 1's journey last Oct. 12 was billed as a "long flight." But the ship was brought down after 16 orbits—far below the record 81 orbits scored by Valerian Bykovsky in June 1963.

Before Voskhod 2 went aloft Soviet sources had suggested that two space ships might be by the Soviets, although observers abroad have speculated that there may have been unsuccessful flights that were not announced.

put into orbit for link-up experiments that are essential in developing ships big enough to reach the planets.

The second Soviet group space flight appeared timed to take the propaganda wind out of the first American attempt to orbit more than one astronaut in a single capsule.

That attempt, the first shot in the American Gemini program, is scheduled for March 23, next Tuesday.

Air Force Maj. Virgil I. Grissom and Navy Comdr. John W. Young are scheduled to make a three-orbit flight together on that date.

Voskhod 2 is the eighth manned space flight announced. The United States has launched two suborbital flights and four single-man orbital ones ranging from three to 22 loops around the earth.

Tass said Belyayev, the oldest man the Soviets have put into orbit, has been flying since he was 18. He entered pilot's school during World War II and in 1945 was a fighter pilot in the Far East. He is married and has two daughters.

Leonov entered aviation school in 1953, Tass reported, and is now studying at the Zhukovsky Air Force Engineering Academy. He has made a study of spacecraft design. He is also married and has one daughter.

Viet Forces Claim 64 Of Reds Killed

16 Others Captured In 3 Actions; 16 Of Own Men Wounded

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — South Vietnamese forces today claimed 64 Viet Cong guerrillas were killed and 16 captured in three actions in the northernmost 1st Army Corps area.

The government reported 16 of its men were wounded and none killed in the three actions Wednesday.

The most successful of the three engagements with Communist guerrillas took place 60 miles northwest of Da Nang, not far from the North Vietnamese frontier.

The Black Panther company left 28 Viet Cong dead on one battlefield 60 miles northwest of Da Nang. Two Reds were captured, 13 weapons seized and 10 South Vietnamese were wounded.

Just north of that battle area, a second government force hit a Viet Cong unit in Quang Tri Province, killing 13 Viet Cong and capturing 10, along with 21 rifles and 24 grenades. There were no government losses.

In Quang Ngai Province, 70 miles south of Da Nang, a helicopter airlift accounted for 23 Viet Cong dead and four captured. Four government soldiers were wounded.

Vietnamese forces on the ground had pushed the guerrillas ahead of them along the Be River. The airlifted force blocked the Communists.

Villagers from a hamlet five miles south of Da Nang came to the air base city in sampans Wednesday to protest an attack by two Vietnamese air force fighter-bombers which they said killed 48 civilians — some of them in a school classroom.

The villagers brought 15 bodies with them. Soldiers dispersed them when they attempted to march through Da Nang carrying the bodies.

The hamlet, Pan Quang, is regarded as being under Viet Cong influence but not domination. Reports said Viet Cong agitators incited the villagers to organize the protest.

Heavy civilian casualties have resulted frequently from air strikes on hamlets where Viet Cong are believed to be operating. It is virtually impossible to distinguish between Viet Cong and civilians on such strikes.

The strike at Pan Quang was made after a skyraider pilot passing over the hamlet reported drawing ground fire.

Snow Blamed In 4 Mishaps; Woman Hurt

Freeway Blocked Briefly As Big Rig Slides Sideways

A "sneak" snow was blamed for four traffic mishaps in rapid succession in East Liverpool about noon Wednesday in which one woman was injured and the inbound lanes of the Freeway were blocked by a jack-knifed tractor - trailer rig, police reported.

Mrs. Gladys M. Rose, 62, of Stagecoach Rd. was treated for a possible back injury at City Hospital following a collision at 11:49 a. m. on Park Way near Broad St. involving her 1960 sedan and a 1962 four - door sedan operated by Gladys V. Frye, 42, of Montana Ave., officers said.

Mrs. Rose, headed north, was stopped for a string of traffic held up by the slippery pavement, police said. She said the Frye auto, headed downgrade, "started to slide all over the road" and hit her car. The other woman driver also blamed a skid for the collision.

Patrolman Orin C. Smith, who investigated, said that "cars were sliding all over the hill because of the icy pavement."

Another collision on Park Way 700 feet north of Pennsylvania Ave. also was timed at 11:49 a. m. yesterday.

It involved a 1957 two-door sedan driven by Robert E. Barton, 19, of Dixonville and a 1960 model station wagon operated by Virginia Manning, 37, of 3200 Waterson Ave., officers said.

Barton told officers he was headed upgrade when his tires spun as he lost traction and his car then was hit from the rear by the Manning car. The woman told police she saw that Barton was having difficulty, so she applied her brakes, but slid into the rear of the other auto.

The inbound Freeway lanes were tied up near the north city limits at 11:56 a.m. when

Three Wellsville Spellers Advance

All three will represent Wellsville in the countywide finals at Lisbon on April 2.

Cynthia, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gooch, 500 16th St., received two trophies since she emerged earlier as the champion speller from Garfield.

Crook is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Crook Jr., 1797 Buckeye Ave. He is the champion from Daw Junior High School.

Mattie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Coleman, 1433 Main St., was a runnerup last year. She is an eighth - grader at Daw Junior High.

Mattie went down on the word epoch, failing to end it with an "h." Crook misspelled hippopotamus. Cynthia clinched the title by spelling it correctly and then spelling "hither."

Named as alternates were Sue Bobalik, a sixth - grader from Garfield, and Pamela McCauley, a student at Daw Junior High.

Other building champs, the last to go down, were Marsha McCauley from Fairview and Stephanie Carter from MacDonald.

There were 32 students entered. Fifty - seven rounds were completed before the champion was determined. After Mattie missed, Cynthia and Lee went through 15 more words.

Bee Set Here For Saturday

5 Schools To Take Part In Parochial Spelldown

Students from schools in five communities will take part in the annual Columbiana County parochial spelling bee Saturday.

Competition will get under way at 2 p. m. at St. Aloysius School here, with the winner and runnerup advancing to the countywide bee at Lisbon April 2 for both the public and parochial school systems.

St. Aloysius of East Liverpool, Immaculate Conception of Wellsville, St. Paul's of Salem, St. Patrick's of Leetonia and Our Lady Of Lourdes of East Palestine will be represented in Saturday's contest.

UNDER BEE rules, each school is permitted to enter three spellers. Each will do so with the exception of Leetonia, which has indicated St. Patrick's will be represented by only one youngster this year.

The following will spell Saturday.

East Liverpool — Susan Satow, 8th grade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Satow, 916 Orchard Grove Ave.; Craig Means, 7th grade, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Means, 310 College St., and Jeffrey White, 8th grade, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert White, 922 Peake St.

Wellsville — Phyllis Surace, 8th grade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Surace, 1100 Commerce St.; James Stacey, 7th grade, son of Mr. and Mrs. Laird Stacey, 305 Broadway, and Karen Davidson, 6th grade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Davidson, 1034 Main St.

Salem — Kevin McIlvaine, 6th grade, son of Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd McIlvaine, E. 11th St.; Jill Brahm, 7th grade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Brahm, 491 Sharp St., and Peggy Stone, 8th grade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stone, 1466 Shady Lane Dr.

East Palestine — David Archibald, 7th grade, son of Mr. and Mrs. Regis Archibald, 542 E.

House Group Due Votes On Health Care

Draft Bill Includes Parts Of Johnson's Plan, GOP Scheme

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee may begin taking decisive votes late today on comprehensive legislation to help pay most of the health expenses of aged Americans.

The draft bill, more than 250 pages long, includes elements of President Johnson's hospitalization plan and of an optional insurance scheme backed by a group of Republicans.

As the bill now stands, accepted for final discussion by the committee but not approved by it, some of the highlights are:

1. Everyone 65 and older would be covered by a hospitalization plan, basically providing 60 days in a hospital and 20 in a nursing home. The patient would pay the first $40.

If the full hospitalization quota was not used up, the patient would be entitled to additional nursing home time at the rate of two days for one of unused hospitalization, up to a maximum stay of 100 days in a nursing home.

2. The aged could, at their option, enroll in a supplemental plan. This would provide 100 doctor calls, some special medical services such as those of radiologists and anesthesiologists, home nursing care and drugs administered in hos-

2-Pronged Ruling

Court Approves Alabama March

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A federal judge has cleared the way for a 50-mile civil rights march from Selma to Montgomery in a two-pronged ruling sharply critical of state police measures.

Not only did U.S. Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. forbid state and county officials from interfering with the march, he ordered Gov. George C. Wallace and Col. Al Lingo, commander of the state troopers, to provide protection for the demonstrators.

Johnson ruled Wednesday that Negroes demanding equal voting rights have a constitutional right to march peaceably along the highway to dramatize their grievances. Among those prohibited from interfering with the march was Sheriff James G. Clark of Dallas County, who has made thousands of arrests in Selma demonstrations.

Conceding that it would burden the state to provide safe conduct for the 300 or more marchers, Johnson said the Justice Department was willing to help stand guard. But he emphasized that the federal government's offer does not lessen the state's responsibility.

He said police brutality served but one purpose — to stop Negroes from attempting to register as voters and from marching through the streets to protest against discrimination.

The right to march along the highway to seek redress for their grievances "should be commensurate with the enormity of the wrongs that are being protested and petitioned against," the court said.

In this case, said the 13-page decision, "the wrongs are enormous. The extent of the right to demonstrate should be determined accordingly."

Test Case Set On City's Tax

College St. Man's Trial Due April 1

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today set a trial Thursday, April 1, for a College St. man accused of violation of the city income tax ordinance and the defendant's counsel indicated it will be a test case of the tax law as it applies to East Liverpool residents employed at Midland and subject to the levies in both communities.

Eugene Thomas, 506 College St., entered a not guilty plea through his counsel, Atty. Robert Hartford of East Palestine, on an affidavit alleging he failed to file an estimate on 1964 earnings and also did not furnish a final return on 1963 income. Both reports were due by

House Opens Hearings On Vote Rights

Katzenbach To Explain Sweeping Provisions Of Bill

Less than 24 hours after President Johnson sent the bill to Capitol Hill, Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach was to go before the House Judiciary Committee to explain its sweeping provisions.

Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., in moving the hearings up from their scheduled opening next week, said "the continuing shameful and tragic events in Alabama" make speedy action essential.

Long and careful preparation of the bill by the Justice Department and congressional leaders of both parties appears to have smoothed the way for passage.

In a letter accompanying the bill, Johnson asked the Senate and House to make sure "no voting qualification or procedure shall be imposed or applied to deny or abridge the right to vote on account of race or color."

"This legislation will help rid the nation of racial discrimination in every aspect of the electoral process," Johnson said.

"I urge the Congress to turn its attention immediately to this legislation and to enact it promptly."

5 More Days To Register

To be eligible to vote in East Liverpool at the primary elections May 4, you must register with the County Election Board at 129 W. 6th St. if:

You haven't voted at a primary, general or special election in the last two years; you've changed your name by marriage or court action; you've changed your residence since the last election; you've become 21 since the last election or will be 21 on or before Nov. 2, the general election date.

A new resident is qualified to vote after he has resided in Ohio for a year and in Columbiana County and his precinct 40 days prior to Election Day. East Liverpool is the only community in the county where voter registration is required.

Registration Ends Wednesday

Among those prohibited from interfering with the march was Sheriff James G. Clark of Dallas County, who has made thousands of arrests in Selma demonstrations.

Conceding that it would burden the state to provide safe conduct for the 300 or more marchers, Johnson said the Justice Department was willing to help stand guard. But he emphasized that the federal government's offer does not lessen the state's responsibility.

He said police brutality served but one purpose — to stop Negroes from attempting to register as voters and from marching through the streets to protest against discrimination.

The right to march along the highway to seek redress for their grievances "should be commensurate with the enormity of the wrongs that are being protested and petitioned against," the court said.

In this case, said the 13-page decision, "the wrongs are enormous. The extent of the right to demonstrate should be determined accordingly."

Test Case Set On City's Tax

College St. Man's Trial Due April 1

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today set a trial Thursday, April 1, for a College St. man accused of violation of the city income tax ordinance and the defendant's counsel indicated it will be a test case of the tax law as it applies to East Liverpool residents employed at Midland and subject to the levies in both communities.

Eugene Thomas, 506 College St., entered a not guilty plea through his counsel, Atty. Robert Hartford of East Palestine, on an affidavit alleging he failed to file an estimate on 1964 earnings and also did not furnish a final return on 1963 income. Both reports were due by

House Opens Hearings On Vote Rights

Katzenbach To Explain Sweeping Provisions Of Bill

Less than 24 hours after President Johnson sent the bill to Capitol Hill, Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach was to go before the House Judiciary Committee to explain its sweeping provisions.

Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., in moving the hearings up from their scheduled opening next week, said "the continuing shameful and tragic events in Alabama" make speedy action essential.

Long and careful preparation of the bill by the Justice Department and congressional leaders of both parties appears to have smoothed the way for passage.

In a letter accompanying the bill, Johnson asked the Senate and House to make sure "no voting qualification or procedure shall be imposed or applied to deny or abridge the right to vote on account of race or color."

"This legislation will help rid the nation of racial discrimination in every aspect of the electoral process," Johnson said.

"I urge the Congress to turn its attention immediately to this legislation and to enact it promptly."

Newell Post Sets Egg Hunt For Children

Sponsorship of the annual Easter egg hunt at the Hancock County Children's Home was authorized at the meeting of Newell American Legion Post 114 Wednesday night. Arthur DeLong will supervise the event.

A new member was enrolled and participation in bowling tournaments and other activities were discussed at the meeting.

The 20th annual statewide veterans' service officers' conference will be held April 23-25 at Jacksons Mill.

The second annual state handicap bowling tournament sponsored by the West Virginia Department will be held May 15-16 and May 22-23 at Compton Lanes in Clarksburg.

DeLong also will supervise registration of Newell Boy Scout Troop 29. He will head a committee to be named later which will reactivate the troop and plan a scout program for the year.

A donation of $35 was authorized for the debating team from Oak Glen High School, which will be competing in Morgantown for state honors.

A banquet for the Wells Junior High football and basketball teams was discussed and a committee appointed to plan the affair.

Donald DeLong discussed registration of boys for the baseball teams of the South Side Athletic Association.

Selma Police Arrest 36 White Ministers

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — Police took 36 white ministers, two of them women, into custody in the first arrests of civil rights demonstrators in this racially troubled city in two weeks.

The ministers attempted to picket the home of Mayor Joseph T. Smitherman Wednesday. Taken to jail in a yellow school bus, the ministers were charged with parading without a permit and released on $200 bond each.

Capt. James Fox, commanding officer of the local Army Reserve unit, said four area men have enlisted within the past month.

They are: Gary R. Evans and Joseph B. Fuller of Newell, Jack R. Sayre of Wellsville and Thomas J. Wiegand of East Liverpool.

Six members were also promoted effective March 1.

Promoted to private first class were Ronald A. Dunlap, Arthur J. Smith and Robert A. Stine.

There still are vacancies in the unit, Fox said, and any persons desiring information about the Army Reserve Program may contact Lt. Edwin Stahl at the Poplar Ln. Armory, weekdays from 8 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.

Carolina Tornadoes Kill 1 And Injure 40

(By The Associated Press)

Tornadoes and violent wind storms battered eastern sections of North Carolina Wednesday night, killing an infant, injuring about 40 persons and causing extensive property damage.

At the same time, blizzards swept across northern areas from the Rockies to the eastern Great Lakes region. The late winter storm extended into the northeast and subzero cold spread into sections of the plains, with freezing weather into Arkansas.

Some 30 persons were injured in tornadoes which also hit areas in Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee, Illinois and Indiana.

Funeral To Be Friday For War Writer, 62

NEW YORK (AP) — Funeral services will be conducted Friday for Quentin Reynolds, 62, the war correspondent and author.

Reynolds died Wednesday at Travis Air Force Base, Calif., of cancer. He became ill while on a writing assignment in the Philippines and was flown back to the United States by military plane.

A New York newspaperman and foreign correspondent before World War II, Reynolds gained wide recognition for his reporting from the war zone. He wrote primarily for Collier's magazine.

Death Claims Ex-Egyptian King Farouk

ROME (AP) — Ex-King Farouk of Egypt, the fat, fun-loving playboy exiled by military revolution in 1952, collapsed in a Rome restaurant early today and died on the way to a hospital. He was 45.

A doctor tried to stimulate Farouk's failing heart with injections and oxygen, but he died as the ambulance pulled up at the gate of Rome's San Camillo Hospital.

He had been one of the more colorful kings of modern times, a lusty bon vivant who spent fortunes on pleasure when he wore the crown in a land of poverty.

The revolution that threw him out after 15 years eventually brought Gamel Abdel Nasser to power. Farouk left Egypt aboard the white and gilt royal yacht "Mahroussa," but he had to return it to the revolutionary government.

Farouk was dining after midnight with a woman at a plush French restaurant on the edge of Rome. He had just finished a rich meal of oysters, roast lamb, cake and fruit when he pitched forward on the table.

At the hospital, attendants found on his person a 6.35-caliber Italian automatic pistol and a pair of the dark sunglasses that he habitually wore. On his finger was a gold wedding ring and in his wallet 97,000 lire ($155).

Farouk was married twice. His first marriage to Farida Zulfikar was dissolved in 1948 after she bore him three daughters but no sons. Only males could succeed to Moslem Egypt's throne.

In 1951 Farouk married Narriman Sadekl 19, the daughter of an Egyptian civil servant. He had seen her first in a jewelry store when she was shopping for a wedding ring with her fiance, Zaki Hashem, an Egyptian employe at the United Nations.

Queen Narriman in January 1952 bore a son who was proclaimed King Fuad II six months later after his father abdicated. Farouk took the baby into exile with him, and the monarchy ended a year later when Egypt became a republic.

Farouk was the descendant of an Albanian adventurer who founded the dynasty under the Ottoman Empire in the 19th century.

Glass Bottle Blowers Strike Across Nation

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) —Members of the Glass Bottle Blowers Association, AFL-CIO, struck glass container plants across the nation Wednesday night after negotiators failed to reach agreement on a new contract.

The strike, which union officials say will affect 85 per cent of the nation's glass container industry, came despite efforts of U. S. Mediation Service negotiators to get both sides to hammer out an agreement.

The strike is expected to further cut into the nation's supply of food, beverage, and other containers, already diminished by a strike against two major can companies.

Gypsy Woman Cited For Larceny By Trick

CLEVELAND (AP) — Police issued a warrant Wednesday charging larceny by trick against a gypsy woman who disappeared with nearly $12,000 of the life savings of an elderly East Side couple.

The warrant was signed by Mrs. Anna Gorkos, 69, the victim. Police said she hesitated to sign the warrant because she believed she had been put under a spell by the gypsy and would die if she went to the police.

$5,376,134 Budget Set For Beaver

BEAVER — Beaver County Commissioners today formally adopted a 1965 operating budget of $5,376,134, based on the current 11-mill tax rate.

The fund is an increase over last year's budget of $4,760,792. However, last year the county also deposited $986,945 in the Mellon National Bank for investment, for a total outlay of $5,747,737.

Estimated receipts of $5,376,685 will include, $3,409,000 from taxes, $74,000 fines and costs and $376,270 grants and reimbursements.

The budget sets $500,000 aside for capital improvements, including funds for new hangers at the airport and new windows at the County Jail.

Other estimated expenditures will be $203,687, courts; $107,120, elections and registration; $84,000, bond interest and $175,000 for principal; $188,200, parks, and $94,748, Planning Commission.

Tougher Strip-Mine Law

Ohio strip-miners, battling bucket and scoop against tougher legislation, have been firing their biggest gun in recent hearings before the Ohio Senate's agriculture and conservation committee.

This is the argument that a tougher law would cause strip-miners to increase the price of coal and put Ohio strip-miners at a competitive disadvantage with strip-miners in other states.

The other states presumably would not include Pennsylvania, because the aim of the proposals before the Ohio General Assembly is to give Ohio as strict a law as the Pennsylvania law.

It could mean of course, that some Ohio strip-miners want to take advantage of a situation that is giving them a competitive advantage over Pennsylvania competition.

In either event, when the problem is stated in terms of competitive advantage, instead of in terms of what irresponsible strip-mining does to the good earth and the dwellers thereon, it shows why state action is easily stymied.

There always is the heart-rending wail that somebody is going to be put out of business, or widows and orphans will have to pay more for coal — and this wrings the hearts of legislators.

In the sweet name of competition, lumber barons despoiled the forests, industrialists polluted the rivers, manufacturers befouled the air — and strip-miners have torn up the earth and left it for posterity and poverty-fighters to worry about.

Ohio U.S. Sen. Frank J. Lausche has thought about this problem a long time as governor and lawmaker and says the only way it could be solved is by a federal law putting all strip-miners on the same competitive basis.

They would hate that, but it would keep them from arguing that they have a right to do anything they please to the good earth because competitive pressure bestows a special license.

Fact is it did until Teddy Roosevelt, Guifford Pinchot and the conservation movement suspended the license.

One To Go

Midland moved into the finals of the Pennsylvania state championship with a convincing victory over Pittsburgh Schenley.

All eyes will be on Harrisburg Saturday night when the final test comes up. Taking advantage of the good neighbor policy again, we're perched solidly on the Midland bandwagon and join the thousands of others backing the team in a rousing "Go get 'em Leopards!"

Regrets For A Dead Preacher

The death of James J. Reeb after a beating by other white men in Selma, Ala., is more than just one more casualty in the bloody showdown over civil rights for Negroes.

Richard Cardinal Cushing, the Roman Catholic archbishop of Boston, thinks the incident will generate a "sense of outrage that will become a great and added force to achieve justice for all men." James Reeb was a Unitarian minister from Boston.

Justice is not achieved in states like Alabama that easily. It would require something alien to Alabama justice to bring to justice the men who beat this visitor from Boston to death because he interfered in what they consider a local problem.

Justice will be as remote as it was last summer when a mob of Mississippians murdered and buried three civil rights workers. Then as now a sense of justice will burn brightly only in the minds of outsiders. There was no justice in Mississippi. There will be no justice in Alabama, barring some miraculous reformation in that state.

This latest instance of brutalitarianism may give rise to a realization that has been slow in coming to Americans.

James Reeb had gone to Selma because he was not indifferent to a wrong being perpetrated against helpless victims.

He could have been a bystander like all others who watch their fellow human beings beaten, abused and murdered without lifting a hand.

He could have pretended not to see. He could have said he did not want to become "involved" in something that was "none of his business."

Who criticizes him for what he did?

Are they the same people who say it is none of their business when toughs and punks assault people on the street?

Are they the same people who wonder in anguished tones what this country is coming to when people won't go to the rescue of one another?

He was willing to go to the rescue of his fellow humans, and the price of his interference was death.

His fellow Americans would do well to pay due respect to one man who was not afraid to "be involved" in what the bully-boys of his country were doing.

The 'Hot Rodders'

"Hot rodding" on Broadway and E. 4th St. at a time when high school students are going and coming from classes has stirred concern among some passersby who fear for the safety of students and adults alike.

"Hot rodding" is not peculiar to the above areas and is of concern wherever it occurs.

This is something that calls primarily for common sense on the part of the drivers who apparently get a kick out of "showing off" without giving much thought to the consequences. Simply put it's: "Let's knock it off!"

If common sense fails to prevail, arrests and court hearings are in order.

The Word Is 'Profanize'

Our file of Rayburn House Office Building information continues to proliferate and profanize, if we may brush off a forgotten word for the occasion.

"Profanize" means to desecrate.

The news about the Rayburn Building is making even Washingtonians wonder how such a thing could have happened — how the spirit of popular government could have been descrated by this glaring example of a dangerous attitude.

It is the attitude that nothing is too good for officials of government and woe be to anyone who wonders why this should be so.

The Rayburn Building cost the government an estimated $84,600,000, making it the world's costliest edifice. It contains every luxury known to man and, according to some of its highly favored occupants, nothing that makes good sense otherwise.

The story that reddened our neck this time and started our teeth to grinding was about inauguration of the new gymnasium, in which lawmakers can play paddleball, jump up and down on trampolines, splash in a swimming pool, take steam baths and work out on rowing machines, to name a few of the exquisite pleasures to which most of them have grown accustomed on the public payroll.

We know from experience that anything said against congressional prerogatives, whether it's archaic snuff boxes in the Senate chamber, junkets to exotic lands, employment of relatives, or self-approved pay boosts will be hotly resented and vigorously rebutted.

But stories about the world's costliest edifice at public expense set us off. They profanize the spirit of popular government. We wonder if Sam Rayburn would have wanted his name hooked up with it.

Purely Personal

None of us can be sure that bitter-end Southern legislators ever will let the 15th amendment to the U.S. Constitution be enforced. But all of us can be sure that bitter-end Southern legislators and club-swinging Southern enforcers have lost their last-ditch bid for public favor. They have worn out the people's patience.

I wind up arguments about the education of children by suggesting that teachers be given a chance to see what they can do, because everybody else has exercised an option to shape all those little minds for purposes of indoctrination — which is not education.

With heavy hearts, the Twillery has taken leave of another in a succession of good canine companions. Our German shepherd, who had no fear of autos, wandered onto the highway and was killed. His body was found the day after he failed to check in at evening mealtime.

It seems to me in retrospect that St. Patrick's Day lost its zing soon after we quit telling Pat-and-Mike jokes. Today it's a big occasion only in large cities, where it has a hookup with big-city politics.

Remembering more presidents than can be comfortably recalled, I venture a guess President Johnson's public statements are superior to any presidential statements in my lifetime — better conceived, better phrased.

Over-simplification of a complex situation on the Berkeley campus of the University of California misled many of us last fall. Only now, thanks to more deeper-digging reporting, are the real issues being brought to light — issues not peculiar to the Berkeley campus.

Funny thing about Nikita Khrushchev when he made that reappearance in public the other day. Without the title and the power he is just another 70-year-old Russian "uncle" in need of dental attention.

Can anything be more implausible on a March day with an icy wind blowing and sleet slanting earthward than a spatter of spring fashions featuring ultra-short skirts, Easter bunnies and spring flowers?

"That Was the Week That Was" is among the TV shows scheduled for extinction in the network death chambers. It can be said of it as has been said so often before, "No one regretted its passing except millions who thought it was the most stimulating thing on the boob tube."

Sticks And Stones . . .

The Mobs Battle For Vending Business

By Victor Riesel

A lethal civil war inside the Mafia over control of sections of the multi-billion-dollar vending machine industry appears to have been averted by the FBI's arrest of three Cosa Nostra hoodlums in Tucson, Ariz., the other day.

Victor Riesel

Though the "automatic vending business" has not been in the news recently, FBI agents have been microscoping the field intensely for some time.

Any formidable underworld control of the new "sophisticated" automatic sales and service machinery, in direct contact with the public, could affect millions of school and college students, hospital employes and workers in vital government and industrial plants.

In the automatic feeding line business, where nickels and dimes count, unscrupulous operators could force prices up and quality down. Mafia "scouts" know that this automatic industry now does a $3.5 billion annual business.

Thus far the underworld has moved into the "small locations" in restaurants and places of entertainment and some sports centers.

Two Cosa Nostra "families" have a monopoly of the mob's vending operation — the tough Carlo Gambino group and the organization of the imprisoned Vito Genovese, "The Big Boss."

They've been eager to get legitimate fronts and expand into the big installations which feed the students and factory workers. However the "family" of the missing Joe Bonanno began competing with the other two outfits apparently without approval of what Sen. McClellan calls the 12-man national Mafia commission.

This may have been one of the real reasons for the sudden and melodramatic exit of Joe Bonanno. His vending machine operation was in the hands of Charles (The Bat) Battaglia, a "Bananas" captain who once was powerful in Buffalo.

The Battaglia and Bonanno vending machine interests are sprawling. Word from an authoritative source indicates the Bonanno combine was eager to use its Southwest base to spread to Los Angeles and then into the comparatively new aero-space industrial complexes near Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Far more than the racket angle of this invasion and even the possible civil war disturbed the authorities. They were disturbed by the possible impact on some of the most sensitive areas of American society.

In all, the competition will soon be fighting for a $14 billion dollar feeding business, according to predictions by qualified economists.

The mob would love to put its hands on a good chunk of this. It has some of it now. It's trying for more.

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

I read in Tuesday's Review in Letters to the Editor that some of our churches just might hold a community memorial service for The Rev. Mr. Reeb.

My, my, I stand in awe of such raw courage.

I suppose it is too much to ask of our already terribly brave citizens to hold a small service in honor of the Negro recently found murdered in Alabama who's murder was only recently discovered and published or to say a prayer for the poor souls who's heads have been cracked open in the past weeks by "Alabama's Finest".

I shall honor the memory of the Rev. Mr. Reeb as long as I live.

However, a letter to our congressman now — and I do mean now — to help give them the courage and strength to fight the good fight will in my opinion find more favor in the eyes of God.

Prayers for forgiveness of Rev. Reeb's murderers are all very well and I am sure that God will in his own good time forgive such murderers. But if the murderers are not apprehended and punished on earth, and swiftly, they will soon move on to other targets, since they found the murder of Rev. Reeb so easy and so safe.

Meanwhile, the murderers in Mississippi of the Civil Rights workers go unpunished and the criminals laugh at our government. Is it any wonder that juvenile delinquents in the eastern cities do not take such a government seriously.

No doubt the Germans prayed too, both in the church and at home, for God's forgiveness and cleansing of all prejudice and for more Christian attitudes while the Nazis murdered the Jews. And later the Poles and the Czechs and Yugoslavs and the Netherlanders and the Scandinavians and the French and later the English and Americans.

Shall we hide and pray, too, while stormtroopers rule unchecked in our southern states? Who knows, perhaps you will be next, or next, or next, or next.

I would warn you, too, that if the John Birch Society is allowed to flourish among the lunatic fringe of this country that we are going to have an even more serious problem on our hands.

If we resolve the racial problem and check the activities of the Klu Klux Klan and the John Birch Society we will at least be able to turn our time and energies to solving the South Viet Nam problem. Then we can take steps to curb the criminal activities in the streets of our cities, and indeed all over the country.

By all means let us hold a memorial service. Perhaps a sunrise service for Rev. Reeb and the other people who have given their lives for liberty. A service to which all church congregations and all citizens will be invited. But above all "write your congressman today".

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

I think it's time for the people to wake up and tell the city officials where to go with their income tax, and stick with it. They can't put everyone in jail, that's for sure.

If the city would fix some unpaved streets, maybe people wouldn't mind paying taxes. The neighbors and I have tried for the past years to get something done about our bad conditions.

You can see the mayor, safety director or anyone else down there. All you get is a promise or excuses. Most of the time they won't waste the time to look things over.

The garbage and trash truck tears up and cuts ruts axle deep and we can't get anything done about it.

We tear the bottom of our cars up because of dragging. If there is any doubt of my story, my car and the streets are here to prove it—and the car is one pile of junk.

I sure don't blame anyone for trying to get away from here due to work conditions and everything else they have to contend with.

Anything you get from the street department you almost have to beg for, including a few cinders after a snow. And then you only get half enough and you have to be careful when you walk so that you won't fall.

Road To Mobocracy

By David Lawrence

Johnson's Stand Raises Some Questions

Street demonstrations and marches, sit-ins and lie-ins—whether violent or nonviolent—have won their biggest victory.

David Lawrence

Although President Johnson said last Friday that he would not be "blackjacked" into action by the pressure of demonstrations, he championed in his message to a joint session of Congress on Monday night many of the very things which the Negro and white demonstrators have been pressing him to support.

The President praised the American Negro as a hero and said that "his actions and protests, his courage to risk safety and even to risk his life, have awakened the conscience of this nation." Mr. Johnson added that the "demonstrations have been designed to call attention to injustice, designed to provoke change, designed to stir reform."

Although Mr. Johnson was careful to insert a few sentences warning demonstrators against extremes, he did not denounce those who have been carrying on sit-ins in federal buildings in the last few days and even in the Capitol and the White House.

No did he reprove the leaders of the demonstrations who are publicly predicting more and more violence and who are stirring up the passions of the people.

NEVER IN THE MEMORY of this correspondent, moreover, has any president of the United States delivered a speech to both houses of Congress containing such mandatory, if not dictatorial, phrases, virtually ordering Congress to pass certain legislation in a given time, and including certain basic commands.

There isn't any appreciable dissent today anywhere in the country on the right of every qualified person to vote, and it is shamefully true that discrimination because of race or color has sometimes been practiced. But what the President failed to tell his nationwide audience over television and radio was that the Constitution has stipulated the right of the states to determine the qualifications of voters and that this cannot be brushed aside and superseded by a decree of the national government setting up a system of federal registrars.

Reform, to be sure, has long been overdue but the President's message goes beyond any such measure. It would limit the power of the states to determine qualifications of voters and leave the federal government as the final judge.

Certain states have literacy or other tests. President Johnson brushes all these aside, and apparently it is to be required that a voter only have to be able to fill out a form giving his name, age and residence, provided he has not been convicted of a felony or is not in a mental institution.

IT WILL BE relatively easy for illiterates to carry with them the written information they must provide. This would mean that millions of persons who are really not educated and do not understand even the fundamentals of public questions will be permitted to vote, outnumbering in some areas those who do have the education and do understand.

The net result could be a mobocracy instead of a democracy. For to take away from the states the right to qualify voters, with the federal government removing tests that are designed to indicate the intelligence of the voter, is to weaken the whole fabric of responsible government.

Mr. Johnson's address at times seemed to be an exercise in demagoguery—an awareness of the political currents that could affect the next elections. He repeated the words of the song which has been a part of many of the demonstrations—"We Shall Overcome."

The President, of course, has an overwhelming majority in both houses of Congress and that's why there was so much applause and standing ovations.

SOME REPUBLICANS from populous districts where Negroes are numerous also were seen applauding vigorously. It was surprising to observe the members of the Supreme Court of the United States, seated in the front row near the rostrum where the President spoke, joining in the applause.

This same Supreme Court is supposed to be free from political influence and to avoid any entanglements in the domestic politics of the nation. These judges have the solemn duty of interpreting any statute passed by Congress, and it certainly does not create a public confidence that there will be dispassionate review of the laws when members of the Supreme Court participate in standing ovations and applause for legislative proposals.

There are some things that Mr. Johnson said that were rightly emphasized, such as the need to abolish discrimination in determining eligibilty of voters. There were also many things that might well have been omitted.

The net impression was that the speech was just a manifestation of political oratory designed to gain popular support for legislation which in some respects intrudes upon the fundamentals of the American constitutional system.

It's of the utmost importance that the Constitution be observed and that demonstrations designed to intimidate the president of the United States and the members of both houses of Congress should be unequivocally denounced.

Remembering more presidents than can be comfortably recalled, I venture a guess President Johnson's public statements are superior to any presidential statements in my lifetime — better conceived, better phrased.

Over-simplification of a complex situation on the Berkeley campus of the University of California misled many of us last fall. Only now, thanks to more deeper-digging reporting, are the real issues being brought to light — issues not peculiar to the Berkeley campus.

Funny thing about Nikita Khrushchev when he made that reappearance in public the other day. Without the title and the power he is just another 70-year-old Russian "uncle" in need of dental attention.

Can anything be more implausible on a March day with an icy wind blowing and sleet slanting earthward than a spatter of spring fashions featuring ultra-short skirts, Easter bunnies and spring flowers?

"That Was the Week That Was" is among the TV shows scheduled for extinction in the network death chambers. It can be said of it as has been said so often before, "No one regretted its passing except millions who thought it was the most stimulating thing on the boob tube."

The Mobs Battle For Vending Business

By Victor Riesel

A lethal civil war inside the Mafia over control of sections of the multi-billion-dollar vending machine industry appears to have been averted by the FBI's arrest of three Cosa Nostra hoodlums in Tucson, Ariz., the other day.

Victor Riesel

Though the "automatic vending business" has not been in the news recently, FBI agents have been microscoping the field intensely for some time.

Any formidable underworld control of the new "sophisticated" automatic sales and service machinery, in direct contact with the public, could affect millions of school and college students, hospital employes and workers in vital government and industrial plants.

In the automatic feeding line business, where nickels and dimes count, unscrupulous operators could force prices up and quality down. Mafia "scouts" know that this automatic industry now does a $3.5 billion annual business.

Thus far the underworld has moved into the "small locations" in restaurants and places of entertainment and some sports centers.

Two Cosa Nostra "families" have a monopoly of the mob's vending operation — the tough Carlo Gambino group and the organization of the imprisoned Vito Genovese, "The Big Boss."

They've been eager to get legitimate fronts and expand into the big installations which feed the students and factory workers. However the "family" of the missing Joe Bonanno began competing with the other two outfits apparently without approval of what Sen. McClellan calls the 12-man national Mafia commission.

This may have been one of the real reasons for the sudden and melodramatic exit of Joe Bonanno. His vending machine operation was in the hands of Charles (The Bat) Battaglia, a "Bananas" captain who once was powerful in Buffalo.

The Battaglia and Bonanno vending machine interests are sprawling. Word from an authoritative source indicates the Bonanno combine was eager to use its Southwest base to spread to Los Angeles and then into the comparatively new aero-space industrial complexes near Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Far more than the racket angle of this invasion and even the possible civil war disturbed the authorities. They were disturbed by the possible impact on some of the most sensitive areas of American society.

In all, the competition will soon be fighting for a $14 billion dollar feeding business, according to predictions by qualified economists.

The mob would love to put its hands on a good chunk of this. It has some of it now. It's trying for more.

Legitimate businessmen and unions in the field would do well to be on the alert.

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

I read in Tuesday's Review in Letters to the Editor that some of our churches just might hold a community memorial service for The Rev. Mr. Reeb.

My, my, I stand in awe of such raw courage.

I suppose it is too much to ask of our already terribly brave citizens to hold a small service in honor of the Negro recently found murdered in Alabama who's murder was only recently discovered and published or to say a prayer for the poor souls who's heads have been cracked open in the past weeks by "Alabama's Finest".

I shall honor the memory of the Rev. Mr. Reeb as long as I live.

However, a letter to our congressman now — and I do mean now — to help give them the courage and strength to fight the good fight will in my opinion find more favor in the eyes of God.

Prayers for forgiveness of Rev. Reeb's murderers are all very well and I am sure that God will in his own good time forgive such murderers. But if the murderers are not apprehended and punished on earth, and swiftly, they will soon move on to other targets, since they found the murder of Rev. Reeb so easy and so safe.

Meanwhile, the murderers in Mississippi of the Civil Rights workers go unpunished and the criminals laugh at our government. Is it any wonder that juvenile delinquents in the eastern cities do not take such a government seriously.

No doubt the Germans prayed too, both in the church and at home, for God's forgiveness and cleansing of all prejudice and for more Christian attitudes while the Nazis murdered the Jews. And later the Poles and the Czechs and Yugoslavs and the Netherlanders and the Scandinavians and the French and later the English and Americans.

Shall we hide and pray, too, while stormtroopers rule unchecked in our southern states? Who knows, perhaps you will be next, or next, or next, or next.

I would warn you, too, that if the John Birch Society is allowed to flourish among the lunatic fringe of this country that we are going to have an even more serious problem on our hands.

If we resolve the racial problem and check the activities of the Klu Klux Klan and the John Birch Society we will at least be able to turn our time and energies to solving the South Viet Nam problem. Then we can take steps to curb the criminal activities in the streets of our cities, and indeed all over the country.

By all means let us hold a memorial service. Perhaps a sunrise service for Rev. Reeb and the other people who have given their lives for liberty. A service to which all church congregations and all citizens will be invited. But above all "write your congressman today".

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

I think it's time for the people to wake up and tell the city officials where to go with their income tax, and stick with it. They can't put everyone in jail, that's for sure.

If the city would fix some unpaved streets, maybe people wouldn't mind paying taxes. The neighbors and I have tried for the past years to get something done about our bad conditions.

You can see the mayor, safety director or anyone else down there. All you get is a promise or excuses. Most of the time they won't waste the time to look things over.

The garbage and trash truck tears up and cuts ruts axle deep and we can't get anything done about it.

We tear the bottom of our cars up because of dragging. If there is any doubt of my story, my car and the streets are here to prove it—and the car is one pile of junk.

I sure don't blame anyone for trying to get away from here due to work conditions and everything else they have to contend with.

Anything you get from the street department you almost have to beg for, including a few cinders after a snow. And then you only get half enough and you have to be careful when you walk so that you won't fall.

Road To Mobocracy

By David Lawrence

Johnson's Stand Raises Some Questions

Street demonstrations and marches, sit-ins and lie-ins—whether violent or nonviolent—have won their biggest victory. Although President Johnson said last Friday that he would not be "black-jacked" into action by the pressure of demonstrations, he championed in his message to a joint session of Congress on Monday night many of the very things which the Negro and white demonstrators have been pressing him to support.

David Lawrence

The President praised the American Negro as a hero and said that "his actions and protests, his courage to risk safety and even to risk his life, have awakened the conscience of this nation." Mr. Johnson added that the "demonstrations have been designed to call attention to injustice, designed to provoke change, designed to stir reform."

Although Mr. Johnson was careful to insert a few sentences warning demonstrators against extremes, he did not denounce those who have been carrying on sit-ins in federal buildings in the last few days and even in the Capitol and the White House.

No did he reprove the leaders of the demonstrations who are publicly predicting more and more violence and who are stirring up the passions of the people.

NEVER IN THE MEMORY of this correspondent, moreover, has any president of the United States delivered a speech to both houses of Congress containing such mandatory, if not dictatorial, phrases, virtually ordering Congress to pass certain legislation in a given time, and including certain basic commands.

There isn't any appreciable dissent today anywhere in the country on the right of every qualified person to vote, and it is shamefully true that discrimination because of race or color has sometimes been practiced. But what the President failed to tell his nationwide audience over television and radio was that the Constitution has stipulated the right of the states to determine the qualifications of voters and that this cannot be brushed aside and superseded by a decree of the national government setting up a system of federal registrars.

Reform, to be sure, has long been overdue but the President's message goes beyond any such measure. It would limit the power of the states to determine qualifications of voters and leave the federal government as the final judge.

Certain states have literacy or other tests. President Johnson brushes all these aside, and apparently it is to be required that a voter only have to be able to fill out a form giving his name, age and residence, provided he has not been convicted of a felony or is not in a mental institution.

IT WILL BE relatively easy for illiterates to carry with them the written information they must provide. This would mean that millions of persons who are really not educated and do not understand even the fundamentals of public questions will be permitted to vote, outnumbering in some areas those who do have the education and do understand.

The net result could be a mobocracy instead of a democracy. For to take away from the states the right to qualify voters, with the federal government removing tests that are designed to indicate the intelligence of the voter, is to weaken the whole fabric of responsible government.

Mr. Johnson's address at times seemed to be an exercise in demagoguery—an awareness of the political currents that could affect the next elections. He repeated the words of the song which has been a part of many of the demonstrations—"We Shall Overcome."

The President, of course, has an overwhelming majority in both houses of Congress and that's why there was so much applause and standing ovations.

SOME REPUBLICANS from populous districts where Negroes are numerous also were seen applauding vigorously. It was surprising to observe the members of the Supreme Court of the United States, seated in the front row near the rostrum where the President spoke, joining in the applause.

This same Supreme Court is supposed to be free from political influence and to avoid any entanglements in the domestic politics of the nation. These judges have the solemn duty of interpreting any statute passed by Congress, and it certainly does not create a public confidence that there will be dispassionate review of the laws when members of the Supreme Court participate in standing ovations and applause for legislative proposals.

There are some things that Mr. Johnson said that were rightly emphasized, such as the need to abolish discrimination in determining eligibilty of voters. There were also many things that might well have been omitted.

The net impression was that the speech was just a manifestation of political oratory designed to gain popular support for legislation which in some respects intrudes upon the fundamentals of the American constitutional system.

It's of the utmost importance that the Constitution be observed and that demonstrations designed to intimidate the president of the United States and the members of both houses of Congress should be unequivocally denounced.

Services will be held Saturday at 1 p. m. at the Henry Funeral Home by the Rev. Fred H. Shiltz. Burial will be in Arlington National Cemetery as her husband is a war veteran.

Friends may call at the funeral home Friday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m.

Weatherman Ignores Approach Of Spring

Spring's only two days away but the Ohio weatherman is ignoring that pleasant fact and is forecasting something more like winter.

Temperatures will drop to a sub - freezing 17 to 22 tonight and the high Friday may be a chilly 36. Charles Boughner, lockmaster at Montgomery Island Dam, said his forecast indicates a slowly falling temperature this afternoon in contrast with the relatively mild 44 recorded at 4 a. m. It had dropped to 40 at mid - morning despite a warming sun. The downtown had 40 at 6 a. m. and 39 an hour later.

Boughner said about an inch of snow was recorded in the sneak storm Wednesday. The day's precipitation totaled 0.37 inch. There will be a few snow flurries tomorrow.

Maola Lists Events

175 At 'Fathers Night' Of ELHS Band Mothers

Approximately 175 attended the annual "Fathers Night" observance of the ELHS Band and Orchestra Mothers Tuesday night in the gymnasium of the Memorial Auditorium.

Vincent L. Maola, band director, welcomed members and guests and gave details of several events in which the band will participate.

The band will enter the district band contest March 27 at Carrollton, and will present its spring concert May 8 during National Music Week. The band will give a concert June 5 at the Three Rivers Arts festival in Pittsburgh.

The "Great Scots" barbershop quartet sang "Hey, Look Me Over," "There'll Be No New Tunes on This Old Piano," "Blue Eyes Crying In the Rain" and "Goodbye, My Coney Island Baby." Their comedy skit was a take-off on two television programs.

The "Knowtones," vocal quartet of Sophomore girls of the high school, sang, "Forever" and "Come See About Me." They are Elaine Smith, Gloria Jones, Brenda Brandon and Cheryl Carter.

Mrs. Willis Standley, general chairman of the dinner-dance to be held May 1, said the theme will be "Southern Paradise."

Mrs. Waggoner reminded members of the spring rummage sale March 29-April 3 at the Rapport Building. Mrs. George Leigh and Mrs. Roland Dingey will be in charge. Band members will conduct a Tag Day April 17. The group is currently conducting a sale of chocolate Easter bunnies.

Mrs. Donald Duke, treasurer, reported on funds raised in various projects to date. Mrs. Albert Rodenhausen conducted devotions.

Members and guests were seated at individual tables covered with white cloth and decorated with shamrocks. Music for dancing was provided by the Potters Dance Band.

Refreshments were served by the social committee assisted by band members, Kathy Blackburn, Lynne Goodman, Carol Rodenhausen, Ruth Leigh, Sharon Leigh, Carol Dingey, Beverly Hildebrand, Sharon Fisher, Suzanne Waggoner, Terry Looman, Janice Manypenny, Rosemary Morris, Dianne Duffy, Dianne Greene and Darlene Walker.

The next meeting will be held April 20 when past band mothers will be invited to attend. There will be an "old jewelry sale."

Harry Edmond New Head Of Newell Junior High PTA

Others elected were Mrs. Robert Carnahan, vice president; Mrs. Marilyn Whittington, secretary, and Mrs. Guy McCune treasurer.

The nominating committee was headed by Mrs. Leonard Copestick, chairman. Officers will be installed April 11.

George Vukas, president, presided for business. It was announced the junior high band will present its annual concert Friday at 8 p. m. in the school auditorium.

A panel discussion was featured on the theme, "Youth Wants to Know," with Mrs. Ralph Hedrick, an instructor, in charge. Participating were Mrs. Albert Logston and the Rev. Charles Haddock, pastor of the Newell United Presbyterian Church, representing the parents, and Debbie Cox and Richard Haynes, ninth graders; Steve Hall, eighth grade, and Cindy Jividen, a seventh grade pupil.

Prior to the meeting, the band played selections under the direction of Wayne L. Westfall in the auditorium.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Delmar Jividen a member of the hospitality committee, assisted by her daughter, Cinday.

The next meeting will be held May 11 at the school.

Test

April 15, 1964, according to the affidavit signed by Tax Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson.

Atty. Hartford commented to the court that "we do not believe the ordinance is unconstitutional, but feel the enforcement of it is as it affects the defendant in this case."

The judge replied that a case is due before the Ohio Supreme Court on a similar case taken up from Cincinnati, but he said the local court will not wait for the outcome of the ruling in Columbus.

The Southern Ohio case involves a man who resides in a community outside Cincinnati and works in the metropolis. Both communities collect wages taxes and he contends the action is unlawful. The East Liverpool case is similar to the extent it involves two communities. But it differs, also, because the two communities are in separate states.

The charge against Thomas was one of a series filed on March 1 by Wilkinson. Thomas originally was in court on March 10, when his case was continued until today.

Wetzel Legislation Would Transfer Land

LISBON — State Rep. Clarence (Dutch) Wetzel today introduced a bill the Legislature asking that 164 acres of state-owned land in Elkrun Township be conveyed to the Lisbon Area Coon Hunters, Inc., for hunting purposes.

The tract was originally school land under the old Western Reserve Territory Act. It could be turned over to the hunting club either by a vote of the township residents or by passage of a bill. The latter is the easier of the two methods of transferral.

Named To National Committee.

Elliott Appointed To Committee On Home Loan Bank

James E. Elliott, executive vice president of the Hancock County Federal Savings and Loan Association of Chester, has been appointed to the United States Savings and Loan League's Committee on the Federal Home Loan Bank system.

The appointment was announced by John W. Stadtler of Washington, D.C., president of the league, which is the national trade organization for the savings and loan business and represents more than 5,100 savings associations.

The committee on which Elliott will serve concerns itself with the effectiveness of the Federal Home Loan Bank system and the various phases of the board's operations and policies.

Elliott, who resides at 1027 Phoenix Ave., has been with the Chester association since 1946. A lifelong resident of Chester, he attended the School of Business at Indiana University. Bloomington. He is married, has two daughters and a son and is a member of the Masonic Lodge and Kiwanis Club.

Irish Luck Runs Out, Man Returns To Jail

Marvin E. Lafferty found Wednesday that the luck of the Irish is not always good, even on St. Patrick's Day.

Lafferty won a suspended fine about 9 a. m. yesterday when he faced Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on an intoxication charge stemming from Tuesday night. The judge wished the Irishman well on his patron saint's day and told him: "On your way."

But Lafferty ran afoul of the law again nine hours later. He was arrested at 6:48 last night at E. 3rd and Walnut Sts. on an intoxication charge. Lafferty pleaded not guilty this morning and the judge set his hearing for Friday. Lafferty went back to jail to await the trial.

Annual Event Starts April 5

43 Conferences Planned For Vocational Guidance

Forty - three conferences have been scheduled for the annual vocational conference week starting April 5 at East Liverpool High School.

pitals and nursing homes — but not medicines prescribed by doctors in connection with home treatment.

This would cost each participant $3 a month, which the government would match. Moreover, the patient would have to pay 20 per cent of the bill, while the plan paid 8.

3. Existing state-federal legislation intended to care for the indigent and those who, while not impoverished, could not pay heavy medical bills, would be revamped and liberalized. Automatically, much of the load would shift to the new plans.

For those remaining under what is now known as the Kerr-Mills Act, the federal government would step up its contribution. The government puts up from 50 per cent for the wealthier states to 80 per cent for the poorer. This range would be stepped up to 55 to 83 per cent.

The plan also would be broadened to include dependent children, blind and disabled persons as well as the aged, and benefits would be increased.

Details of financing still are to be worked out, but, in general:

1. The universal hospitalization segment would be financed, as in the original administration bill, by an increase in the payroll tax.

2. The government's contribution to the optional supplemental plan would come out of the general Treasury. However, some of this would be recouped through a device to reduce or eliminate the element of government subsidy for the aged with substantial incomes.

3. The federal share of the broadened Kerr-Mills plan would be paid, as at present, out of the general Treasury.

There was no immediate estimate of the total cost available.

The committee is driving to make the essential decisions on the legislation this week, but the outlook is uncertain. The administration wants the House to pass the bill the week of March 29.

Deaths and Funerals

World War I Veteran Dies

Arthur Oliver Clendenning, 64, of Lycia Ave., Lawrenceville, died Wednesday at 1 p. m. at home, after a brief illness.

A World War I veteran, he was born in East Liverpool June 25, 1900, to the late George Clendenning and Sarah Pearson Clendenning. He was a handler at the Harker Pottery China Co. in Chester and retired in 1955. He was a member of American Legion Post 163 of Lawrenceville and the Veterans of World War I Barracks.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. John (Naomi) Sprohar of Titusville; seven sons, Arthur Oliver Clendenning Jr., Charles F. Clendenning, Clarence R. Clendenning, Howard V. Clendenning, Richard A. Clendenning, and Edwin N. Clendenning, all of Chester R. D. 1, Marine Lance Cpl. George M. Clendenning, stationed in Viet Nam, and 12 grandchildren.

Services will be held Saturday at 10:30 a. m. at the Chester Arner Funeral Chapel by the Rev. Robert Schondelmayer, pastor of the Chester Christian Church.

Friends may call at the chapel Friday.

Mrs. Ralph Cox

Mrs. Susan K. Cox, 23, of Pughtown, wife of Ralph Harold Cox, died Wednesday at 9:30 p. m. at City Hospital, after a brief illness.

Mrs. Cox was born in Steubenville July 24, 1941, to Earl James Priest and Florence M. Flick Priest of Pughtown. She was a member of the Christian Church of Pughtown.

In addition to her husband and parents, she is survived by a daughter, Miss Ann Marie Cox at home; five sisters, Mrs. Louis McConnell of Pittsburgh, Mrs. Doris Cameron, Miss Peggy Priest and Miss Becky Priest, all of Pughtown, and Mrs. Jean Hudson of New Cumberland, a brother, Richard Priest of Fontana, Calif., and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Flick of East Liverpool.

Services will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. at the church by the Rev. Jerry Dietch, minister, and the Rev. Elmer Stratton, pastor of the Calvary Methodist Church of Steubenville. Burial will be in Union Cemetery, Pughtown.

Friends may call at the Turley Funeral Home in New Cumberland up to noon Saturday. The body will lie in state at the church from noon to the time of service.

Mrs. Charles Sebring

Services will be held Friday for Mrs. Charles Sebring, 75, of Sebring, Fla., who died Tuesday.

She and her husband, formerly associated with the Edwin M. Knowles China Co., resided in this area about 20 years ago.

Mrs. Lewis P. Moon

LISBON — Mrs. Mae Moon, 82, of R. D. 3 died Wednesday at 6:30 p. m. in the Gregg Nursing Home in Salem, where she had resided the past week. She had been in failing health several years.

She was born Aug. 11, 1882, in Philadelphia to Thomas Penrose and Julia Dillon Penrose and resided in this area for 26 years.

She is survived by her husband, Lewis P. Moon, who is confined to Salem City Hospital, and several nephews and nieces.

She was a member of the First Methodist Church and Daughters of America.

Services will be held Saturday at 1 p. m. at the Henry Funeral Home by the Rev. Fred H. Shiltz. Burial will be in Arlington National Cemetery as her husband is a war veteran.

Friends may call at the funeral home Friday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m.

Weatherman Ignores Approach Of Spring

Spring's only two days away but the Ohio weatherman is ignoring that pleasant fact and is forecasting something more like winter.

Temperatures will drop to a sub - freezing 17 to 22 tonight and the high Friday may be a chilly 36. Charles Boughner, lockmaster at Montgomery Island Dam, said his forecast indicates a slowly falling temperature this afternoon in contrast with the relatively mild 44 recorded at 4 a. m. It had dropped to 40 at mid - morning despite a warming sun. The downtown had 40 at 6 a. m. and 39 an hour later.

Boughner said about an inch of snow was recorded in the sneak storm Wednesday. The day's precipitation totaled 0.37 inch. There will be a few snow flurries tomorrow.

Maola Lists Events

Approximately 175 attended the annual "Fathers Night" observance of the ELHS Band and Orchestra Mothers Tuesday night in the gymnasium of the Memorial Auditorium.

Vincent L. Maola, band director, welcomed members and guests and gave details of several events in which the band will participate.

The band will enter the district band contest March 27 at Carrollton, and will present its spring concert May 8 during National Music Week. The band will give a concert June 5 at the Three Rivers Arts festival in Pittsburgh.

The "Great Scots" barbershop quartet sang "Hey, Look Me Over," "There'll Be No New Tunes on This Old Piano," "Blue Eyes Crying In the Rain" and "Goodbye, My Coney Island Baby." Their comedy skit was a take-off on two television programs.

The "Knowtones," vocal quartet of Sophomore girls of the high school, sang, "Forever" and "Come See About Me." They are Elaine Smith, Gloria Jones, Brenda Brandon and Cheryl Carter.

Mrs. Willis Standley, general chairman of the dinner-dance to be held May 1, said the theme will be "Southern Paradise."

Mrs. Waggoner reminded members of the spring rummage sale March 29-April 3 at the Rapport Building. Mrs. George Leigh and Mrs. Roland Dingey will be in charge. Band members will conduct a Tag Day April 17. The group is currently conducting a sale of chocolate Easter bunnies.

Mrs. Donald Duke, treasurer, reported on funds raised in various projects to date. Mrs. Albert Rodenhausen conducted devotions.

Refreshments were served by the social committee assisted by band members, Kathy Blackburn, Lynne Goodman, Carol Rodenhausen, Ruth Leigh, Sharon Leigh, Carol Dingey, Beverly Hildebrand, Sharon Fisher, Suzanne Waggoner, Terry Looman, Janice Manypenny, Rosemary Morris, Dianne Duffy, Dianne Greene and Darlene Walker.

The next meeting will be held April 20 when past band mothers will be invited to attend. There will be an "old jewelry sale."

Harry Edmond New Head Of Newell Junior High PTA

Others elected were Mrs. Robert Carnahan, vice president; Mrs. Marilyn Whittington, secretary, and Mrs. Guy McCune treasurer.

The nominating committee was headed by Mrs. Leonard Copestick, chairman. Officers will be installed April 11.

George Vukas, president, presided for business. It was announced the junior high band will present its annual concert Friday at 8 p. m. in the school auditorium.

A panel discussion was featured on the theme, "Youth Wants to Know," with Mrs. Ralph Hedrick, an instructor, in charge. Participating were Mrs. Albert Logston and the Rev. Charles Haddock, pastor of the Newell United Presbyterian Church, representing the parents, and Debbie Cox and Richard Haynes, ninth graders; Steve Hall, eighth grade, and Cindy Jividen, a seventh grade pupil.

Prior to the meeting, the band played selections under the direction of Wayne L. Westfall in the auditorium.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Delmar Jividen a member of the hospitality committee, assisted by her daughter, Cinday.

The next meeting will be held May 11 at the school.

April 15, 1964, according to the affidavit signed by Tax Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson.

Atty. Hartford commented to the court that "we do not believe the ordinance is unconstitutional, but feel the enforcement of it is as it affects the defendant in this case."

The judge replied that a case is due before the Ohio Supreme Court on a similar case taken up from Cincinnati, but he said the local court will not wait for the outcome of the ruling in Columbus.

The Southern Ohio case involves a man who resides in a community outside Cincinnati and works in the metropolis. Both communities collect wages taxes and he contends the action is unlawful. The East Liverpool case is similar to the extent it involves two communities. But it differs, also, because the two communities are in separate states.

The charge against Thomas was one of a series filed on March 1 by Wilkinson. Thomas originally was in court on March 10, when his case was continued until today.

MISS ANN JOHNSTON, a teacher in the East Liverpool public school system, will be the pronouncer. The judges will be Bert Dawson, dean of boys at East Liverpool High School; Arthur Thomas, editor of The Review, and Byron Eells, a member of The Review news staff.

The various county bees are co-sponsored by The Review and the Salem News.

Wetzel Legislation Would Transfer Land

LISBON — State Rep. Clarence (Dutch) Wetzel today introduced a bill the Legislature asking that 164 acres of state-owned land in Elkrun Township be conveyed to the Lisbon Area Coon Hunters, Inc., for hunting purposes.

The tract was originally school land under the old Western Reserve Territory Act. It could be turned over to the hunting club either by a vote of the township residents or by passage of a bill. The latter is the easier of the two methods of transferral.

JAMES E. ELLIOTT
Named To National Committee.

Elliott Appointed To Committee On Home Loan Bank

James E. Elliott, executive vice president of the Hancock County Federal Savings and Loan Association of Chester, has been appointed to the United States Savings and Loan League's Committee on the Federal Home Loan Bank system.

The appointment was announced by John W. Stadtler of Washington, D.C., president of the league, which is the national trade organization for the savings and loan business and represents more than 5,100 savings associations.

The committee on which Elliott will serve concerns itself with the effectiveness of the Federal Home Loan Bank system and the various phases of the board's operations and policies.

Elliott, who resides at 1027 Phoenix Ave., has been with the Chester association since 1946. A lifelong resident of Chester, he attended the School of Business at Indiana University, Bloomington. He is married, has two daughters and a son and is a member of the Masonic Lodge and Kiwanis Club.

Irish Luck Runs Out, Man Returns To Jail

Marvin E. Lafferty found Wednesday that the luck of the Irish is not always good, even on St. Patrick's Day.

Lafferty won a suspended fine about 9 a. m. yesterday when he faced Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on an intoxication charge stemming from Tuesday night. The judge wished the Irishman well on his patron saint's day and told him: "On your way."

But Lafferty ran afoul of the law again nine hours later. He was arrested at 6:48 last night at E. 3rd and Walnut Sts. on an intoxication charge. Lafferty pleaded not guilty this morning and the judge set his hearing for Friday. Lafferty went back to jail to await the trial.

Annual Event Starts April 5

43 Conferences Planned For Vocational Guidance

Forty - three conferences have been scheduled for the annual vocational conference week starting April 5 at East Liverpool High School.

A keynote address will be given April 5 with the actual conferences starting the following day. Students probably will not be scheduled for more than two conferences in a week.

The schedule shows conferences on elementary teaching, secondary teaching, law, flower growing and merchandising, electrical service and maintenance, photography, civil service, dentistry, retail selling, radio work, dental hygientist and insurance on April 6.

On April 7, the conferences will include talks on medicine, library work, newspaper business, advertising, laboratory technician, machine trades, vocal music, instrumental music, telephone operator and office for girls, telephone maintenance for boys, practical nursing and architecture.

Auto dealership sales and service, business practice, ministry and religious education, Building trades, home and family relations, art and interior decorations, social service, banking, armed services are slated April 8.

Home economics, nursing, pharmacy, agriculture, trucking, airline opportunities, beautician, engineering. YMCA and FBI careers will be discussed on the final day.

Medicare

pitals and nursing homes — but not medicines prescribed by doctors in connection with home treatment.

This would cost each participant $3 a month, which the government would match. Moreover, the patient would have to pay 20 per cent of the bill, while the plan paid 8.

3. Existing state-federal legislation intended to care for the indigent and those who, while not impoverished, could not pay heavy medical bills, would be revamped and liberalized. Automatically, much of the load would shift to the new plans.

For those remaining under what is now known as the Kerr-Mills Act, the federal government would step up its contribution. The government puts up from 50 per cent for the wealthier states to 80 per cent for the poorer. This range would be stepped up to 55 to 83 per cent.

The plan also would be broadened to include dependent children, blind and disabled persons as well as the aged, and benefits would be increased.

Details of financing still are to be worked out, but, in general:

1. The universal hospitalization segment would be financed, as in the original administration bill, by an increase in the payroll tax.

2. The government's contribution to the optional supplemental plan would come out of the general Treasury. However, some of this would be recouped through a device to reduce or eliminate the element of government subsidy for the aged with substantial incomes.

3. The federal share of the broadened Kerr-Mills plan would be paid, as at present, out of the general Treasury.

There was no immediate estimate of the total cost available.

The committee is driving to make the essential decisions on the legislation this week, but the outlook is uncertain. The administration wants the House to pass the bill the week of March 29.

Sargus Bill One Of 2 Passed

Manufacturers Of Bookie Devices Could Face Pen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Manufacturers of devices used by bookies to bypass automatic telephone equipment could face up to seven years imprisonment under measures now halfway through the legislaturre.

The Senate passed and sent to the House Wednesday two bills by Sens. Charles H. Jones, R-Hamilton, and Edmund A. Sargus, D-Belmont, setting penalties for manufacturers of cheating devices as well as their users.

First offenders could be fined $300 and sentenced to 90 days, or both, and second offenders would receive a prison sentence of one to seven years.

Jones said such devices have been manufactured in other states, including New Jersey and Florida." The devices are very attractive to the gambling fraternity because calls cannot be traced," Jones said. Both bills passed by lopsided margins.

Among seven new bills introduced in the Senate was one by Sens. Max H. Dennis, R-Clinton, and Sargus, which would prohibit what they called monopolistic practices by the dairy industry. Their measure, placing the industry under federal antitrust laws, is similar to one defeated by the legislature in 1963.

Across the statehouse, the House passed three bills but rejected a fourth that would have set a $50 fine for motorists leaving their keys in the ignition.

House members gave unanimous approval to the so-called "bee bill." The measure which now goes to the Senate is designed to aid Ohio's honey and beeswax industry by providing for registration of beekeepers and closer inspection for disease.

In other House action, approval was given to measures calling for state employe paydays every other Friday instead of twice monthly with no raises in salary, and to eliminate a requirement for chauffeurs to wear badges on their caps or lapels while driving.

New bills offered in the House included two by Rep. Roy Hufer Jr., D-Piekaway, to require common pleas and municipal court judges to retire at age 70, and one by Rep. Roy J. Gilliland, R-Jackson, to repeal the statute requiring notice to the tax commission in inheritance cases.

Wetzel Submits Bill On School Land Vote

COLUMBUS — Rep. Clarence Wetzel, R-Columbiana, co-sponsored a bill in the House Wednesday concerning disposal of abandoned school land.

Fall Injures Area Woman

A Salineville woman hurt in a fall was in "fair" condition today at City Hospital, where eight other district residents were treated Wednesday after separate mishaps and released.

Mrs. Mildred Saltsman, 412 Water St., Salineville, suffered a possible fractured hip in a fall down steps, and was taken to the hospital by ambulance last night.

Mrs. Ida Turner of Lisbon R. D. 2 was treated last night for an injury to the left leg received in a fall at home.

Edward Mackall, 78, of Georgetown suffered a cut of the eyebrow in a fall against woodwork at home and was treated late yesterday afternoon.

In a fall in gym class at East Junior High School, Terry Rickerd, 15, son of Alfred Rickerd, 191 Haywood St., suffered an injury to the right elbow.

Thomas Scott, son of Norman Scott, 1702 Etruria St., was treated for an injury of the right hand in a fall on a sidewalk.

Relatives' Trend Cited As Patrol Seeks Recruits

Is Ohio State Highway Patrol service contagious? At least it is for 19 persons who followed the lead of their fathers, brothers or uncles.

A recent accounting reveals 13 brother teams, four father-son pairs and a brace of uncle-nephew combinations in the ranks of the patrol.

In the early days after the patrol was founded in 1933, a rigid no relative rule was enforced. But, demand grew, relatives of patrolmen were clamoring for a chance to join, Sgt. Ralph J. Ruzzo of the Lisbon post said.

Leaders of the patrol in 1946 determined they had lost too many good prospects because of the no relative practice, and the policy was abandoned.

Relatives or not, the patrol needs qualified men. Sgt. Ruzzo urged young men to take advantage of the opportunities offered by the patrol.

He said vacancies now exist for qualified men between the ages of 21 and 35 who are interested in law enforcement. Requirements are a high school weight of 160, good physical condition and excellent moral character. Post dispatchers need only be 18 years of age.

Salem Plating Firm To Occupy Palestine Plant

EAST PALESTINE — The R. L. Chabot Plating Co., Inc., of Salem has purchased the Procell Co. building of E. Taggart St. Ext. and plans to move its operations here by May 1.

The Chabot firm processes welded steel tubing by applying a bright zinc plating, used in toys, lawnmowers, playground equipment and similar items. It employs 10 men in two shifts for a total personnel of 20.

The firm has been in Salem 18 months. The Procell firm was a paper mill, last operated in 1956, and is owned by a York (Pa.) concern.

It formerly housed the National Tire & Rubber Co.

Chabot and his wife, Betty, operate the new firm. He said he will move new equipment into the building here and then when operating, will move the equiment at Salem here to double production.

The equipment is primarily large vats in which the plating is done. The firm will be a large user of electricity and water.

County Welfare Costs $729,727

LISBON — Columbiana County's eight divisions under the direction of the State Department of Public Welfare spent $729,727 during 1964, according to the report of Robert Bycroft county welfare director. A breakdown shows:

Aid for blind, $43,897.76; aid to dependant children, $237,609.55; aid for disabled, $151,040.72; general relief, $104,868.95; child welfare service, $114,629.35; children's receiving home, $12,570.25; retarded children $58,165.17, and crippled children's service, $6,945.19.

AID FOR BLIND—This program decreased 20 per cent during the year, which began with 51 active cases. Seventeen applications were received and six were approved, but 17 cases were closed, leaving 40 cases as of Jan. 1. Overall expenses decreased 13 per cent under the previous year.

Aid to dependent children — Applications increased 24 per cent over the previous year. There were 154 applicants for assistance of which 106 were approved and 42 denied. A total of 100 cases were closed.

Jan. 1, 1964, there were 154 active cases with 159 caretakers and 454 children. On Dec. 31, there were 160 cases representing 169 caretakers and 458 children.

Glenn A. Logston, minister of the N. Beaver St. Church of Christ, narrated slides of the Holy Land taken during a recent trip.

Emphasis having been placed on services, the caseworker must spend more time in the field and gather more definite information particularly about the children. Bycroft said. Case loads have been reduced, so it is possible to give proper service and maintain adequate records.

Aid for dependent children—unemployed parents have been included in this program, going into effect in March. The regulations pertaining to part employment were so rigid, the caseload was overestimated. During the year the department accepted 42 applications, with 26 approved, and on Dec. 31 only 14 cases were listed. New legislation passed late in December should make this program grow month by month, Bycroft commented.

GENERAL RELIEF—Due to the new ADC-U program and with employment at a high level, this program was operated with a minimum number of cases throughout the year. The year began with 44 cases representing 175 persons and 205 applications were received, 176 of which were approved and 27 denied, and 184 cases were closed. As of Jan. 1, there were 36 active cases with 189 persons.

Child welfare service continues to produce many complex problems as quite a number of parents seem to shift responsibility and expect the school, the church, and the community to take care of and train their children, Bycroft said.

"Many children with emotional problems need help that isn't available. We worked throughout the year with some serious cases of this type, the result of which was six teen - agers being committed to the Massillon State Hospital.

"FORTUNATELY, we were able to obtain several new and good foster homes through the year." As of Jan. 1, 1964, there were 165 children in custody of the department. During the year custody of 163 children was accepted and 183 cases were terminated. Leaving 145 children under care Jan. 1.

Children's Receiving Home—"This home at East Palestine operated the entire year and continued under the excellent supervision of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Beglin. The home has been put in top condition by these people in addition to their having much to offer the children placed there.

During the year 72 children were placed in the home. There were 26 boys and 46 girls, representing 2,063 days of care.

RETARDED children's classes — Again this program continued on the increase. The school term ended with five approved classes and one custodial class. "Beginning in September we had the same number of classes and a sheltered workshop class was started at another location."

A new teacher was employed at the school as one teacher was transferred to the workshop class. At the end of 1964, there were 66 children in classes at the school and 10 children over 21 years of age in the workshop.

Two new 20-passenger buses were purchased at the beginning of the school term and the first full year of the lunch program was also started. A prize 4-H steer was donated to the school.

The children, with one or two exceptions, can properly feed themselves and all are assured a balanced hot lunch each day.

"In addition to regular schoolroom activities, church women conduct a program one morning a week for the children and we have both Boy Scout and Girl Scout organizations. The annual Christmas program was highly successful as always," Bycroft commented.

"IN SEPT. we launched for the first time the operation of a sheltered workshop for those over 21 who are retarded. Because of the crowded conditions at the school, we rented a first-floor building in the business section of Lisbon.

"After planning for this move throughout the summer, it was decided to obtain some work projects and also to incorporate a retail pet business, along with the work projects. About this time we received a $1,000 donation from an estate and starting with this we opened the shop in September.

"It was possible to stock all pets, consisting of tropical fish, parakeets, canaries, turtles, guinea pigs, hamsters, white mice and a monkey. There are 10 children in the shop, seven of whom were previously in our regular classes. We added three more, with one totally blind."

Work projects consisted of sorting 172 pieces of hardware for a local manufacturing firm, and seasonal Christmas bows and wreaths were made and sold.

"OUR GOAL is to be able to operate this shop on a year-around basis, with the children perhaps attending for 11 months and eventually being able to pay each child a small amount of money for his or her work.

"Crippled children's services —This type of service is very gratifying when we see such fine medical procedures today. Many more cases are being referred each year and this also means acceptance of many more."

During 1964, 15 new cases were referred and 27 cases were referred for re-evaluation Dec. 31, there were 64 active cases.

At present, the staff of welfare workers includes 15 besides the director — two caseworkers supervisors, seven caseworkers, five clerks and one surplus commodities work project supervisor.

Increases Noted In Car Tag Sales

With two weeks remaining in which 1965 license plates are required on all vehicles, three of four area deputy registrars reported sales running ahead of last year.

The Columbiana County Motor Club said it has issued nearly 4,000 passenger plates, which is slightly ahead of last year. It also has sold 650 truck plates, about equal to 1964.

Sales at the Potters Lumber Co. in Calcutta also are ahead of last year with 1,047 sold so far. Richard Crawford reported.

Mrs. Betty Rager, deputy registrar in Wellsville, said sales have reached the 1,300 mark, about the same as in '64.

W.Va. State Police Looking For Recruits

CHARLESTON (AP) — The West Virginia State Police are seeking applications from prospective troopers following passage of legislation for expansion of the department.

Supt. W. E. Burchett said Wednesday applicants must be high school graduates in the 21-30 age bracket, at least 5-feet-9, and residents of the state.

They must also pass physical and mental examinations. Preference is given to applicants who already have fulfilled their military commitments.

The 1965 legislature voted funds for an across-the-board pay raise of $50 a month for all ranks in the State Police plus addition of 25 more troopers in the new fiscal year starting July 1.

Report Made On '64

County Welfare Costs $729,727

LISBON — Columbiana County's eight divisions under the direction of the State Department of Public Welfare spent $729,727 during 1964, according to the report of Robert Bycroft, county welfare director. A breakdown shows:

Aid for blind, $43,897.76; aid to dependant children, $237,609.55; aid for disabled, $151,040.72; general relief, $104,868.95; child welfare service, $114,629.35; children's receiving home, $12,570.25; retarded children $58,165.17, and crippled children's service, $6,945.19.

AID FOR BLIND—This program decreased 20 per cent during the year, which began with 51 active cases. Seventeen applications were received and six were approved, but 17 cases were closed, leaving 40 cases as of Jan. 1. Overall expenses decreased 13 per cent under the previous year.

Aid to dependent children — Applications increased 24 per cent over the previous year. There were 154 applicants for assistance of which 106 were approved and 42 denied. A total of 100 cases were closed.

Jan. 1, 1964, there were 154 active cases with 159 caretakers and 454 children. On Dec. 31, there were 160 cases representing 169 caretakers and 458 children.

SEPARATIONS, divorces and desertions continued to be the eligibility factor in most cases, Glenn A. Lagston, minister of the N. Beaver St. Church of Christ, narrated slides of the Holy Land taken during a recent trip.

Emphasis having been placed on services, the caseworker must spend more time in the field and gather more definite information particularly about the children Bycroft said. Case loads have been reduced, so it is possible to give proper service and maintain adequate records.

Aid for dependent children—unemployed parents have been included in this program, going into effect in March. The regulations pertaining to past employment were so rigid, the caseload was overestimated. During the year the department accepted 42 applications, with 26 approved, and on Dec. 31 only 14 cases were listed. New legislation passed late in December should make this program grow month by month, Bycroft commented.

GENERAL RELIEF—Due to the new ADC-U program and with employment at a high level, this program was operated with a minimum number of cases throughout the year. The year began with 44 cases representing 175 persons and 205 applications were received, 176 of which were approved and 27 denied, and 184 cases were closed. As of Jan. 1, there were 36 active cases with 189 persons.

Child welfare service continues to produce many complex problems as quite a number of parents seem to shift responsibility and expect the school, the church, and the community to take care of and train their children, Bycroft said.

"Many children with emotional problems need help that isn't available. We worked throughout the year with some serious cases of this type, the result of which was six teen - agers being committed to the Massillon State Hospital.

"FORTUNATELY, we were able to obtain several new and good foster homes through the year." As of Jan. 1, 1964, there were 165 children in custody of the department. During the year custody of 163 children was accepted and 183 cases were terminated. Leaving 145 children under care Jan. 1.

Children's Receiving Home—This home at East Palestine operated the entire year and continued under the excellent supervision of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Beglin. The home has been put in top condition by these people in addition to their having much to offer the children placed there.

During the year 72 children were placed in the home. There were 26 boys and 46 girls, representing 2,063 days of care.

RETARDED children's classes — Again this program continued on the increase. The school term ended with five approved classes and one custodial class. "Beginning in September we had the same number of classes and a sheltered workshop class was started at another location."

A new teacher was employed at the school as one teacher was transferred to the workshop class. At the end of 1964, there were 66 children in classes at the school and 10 children over 21 years of age in the workshop.

Two new 20-passenger buses were purchased at the beginning of the school term and the first full year of the lunch program was also started. A prize 4-H steer was donated to the school.

The children, with one or two exceptions, can properly feed themselves and all are assured a balanced hot lunch each day.

"In addition to regular schoolroom activities, church women conduct a program one morning a week for the children and we have both Boy Scout and Girl Scout organizations. The annual Christmas program was highly successful as always," Bycroft commented.

"IN SEPT., we launched for the first time the operation of a sheltered workshop for those over 21 who are retarded. Because of the crowded conditions at the school, we rented a first-floor building in the business section of Lisbon.

"After planning for this move throughout the summer, it was decided to obtain some work projects and also to incorporate a retail pet business, along with the work projects. About this time we received a $1,000 donation from an estate and starting with this we opened the shop in September.

"It was possible to stock all pets, consisting of tropical fish, parakeets, canaries, turtles, guinea pigs, hamsters, white mice and a monkey. There are 10 children in the shop, seven of whom were previously in our regular classes. We added three more, with one totally blind."

Work projects consisted of sorting 172 pieces of hardware for a local manufacturing firm, and seasonal Christmas bows and wreaths were made and sold.

"OUR GOAL is to be able to operate this shop on a year-around basis, with the children perhaps attending for 11 months and eventually being able to pay each child a small amount of money for his or her work.

"Crippled children's services—This type of service is very gratifying when we see such fine medical procedures today. Many more cases are being referred each year and this also means acceptance of many more."

During 1964, 15 new cases were referred and 27 cases were referred for re-evaluation Dec. 31, there were 64 active cases.

At present, the staff of welfare workers includes 15 besides the director — two case-work supervisors, seven case-workers, five clerks and one surplus commodities work project supervisor.

Increases Noted In Car Tag Sales

With two weeks remaining in which 1965 license plates are required on all vehicles, three of four area deputy registrars reported sales running ahead of last year.

The Columbiana County Motor Club said it has issued nearly 4,000 passenger plates, which is slightly ahead of last year. It also has sold 650 truck plates, about equal to 1964.

Sales at the Potters Lumber Co. in Calcutta also are ahead of last year with 1,047 sold so far, Richard Crawford reported.

Mrs. Betty Rager, deputy registrar in Wellsville, said sales have reached the 1,300 mark, about the same as in '64.

W.Va. State Police Looking For Recruits

CHARLESTON (AP) — The West Virginia State Police are seeking applications from prospective troopers following passage of legislation for expansion of the department.

Supt. W. E. Burchett said Wednesday applicants must be high school graduates in the 21-30 age bracket, at least 5-feet-9, and residents of the state.

They must also pass physical and mental examinations. Preference is given to applicants who already have fulfilled their military commitments.

The 1965 legislature voted funds for an across-the-board pay raise of $50 a month for all ranks in the State Police plus addition of 25 more troopers in the new fiscal year starting July 1.

MISS KAREN DUNCAN
Fiancee Of Cpl. Larry Deese.

Karen Duncan's Wedding To Be Held On May 8

Mr. and Mrs. William Duncan of Newell announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Miss Karen Sue Duncan, to Cpl. Larry B. Deese, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Deese of Charlotte, N. C.

The bride - elect who resides in Arlington, Va., is a 1962 graduate of Wells High School in Newell. She is employed by the Office of Emergency Planning in the executive office of the President in Washington.

At Sophomore Party

5 Seek Queen's Crown

A queen will be crowned at the annual Sophomore Class party of East Liverpool High School Friday night at the Memorial Auditorium.

A disc jockey will play records from 8:30 to 11:30 p. m.

The theme of the dance is "West Side Story."

Miss Barbara A. Heaton And Orval F. Adams Wed

The First Christian Church of Wellsville was the scene of the wedding of Miss Barbara Ann Heaton and Orval F. Adams, both of Wellsville, last Saturday, afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Heaton, 2025 Clark Ave., and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Adams, 1025 Commerce St.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown with Alencon lace bodice, scoop neckline, short sleeves featuring organza over taffeta skirt falling in soft folds.

Her waist-length veil was held in place by a crown of forward-effect organza pouff trimmed with lace and seed pearls with a bouffant veil of silk illusion. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. Her Colonial bouquet was centered with white carnations flanked by pink carnations and tied with white satin streamers.

Miss Peggy Lloyd, maid - of-honor, was attired in a street-length dress of frost blue with high-fitted bodice, short sleeves featuring a full skirt of nylon over taffeta. From her crown of white lace was draped a shoulder-length veil of silk illusion. Her Colonial bouquet was of white carnations tied with matching streamers.

The mother of the bride wore a pastel blue nylon suit and black accessories. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a black and white suit with black accessories. Both wore a white carnation corsage.

A reception for 100 followed in the church social rooms where Miss Patricia Braden, cousin of the bride, registered guests including those from New Waterford, Salem and Massillon. The Fellowship Class catered the reception. The buffet table was laid with a white cloth, the front of which was draped with pink nylon net with pink wild roses intermingled. It was centered with a four-tier wedding cake made by Mrs. Dorothy Bunfill and topped with a miniature bridal couple and pink and white carnations around the base. White tapers in crystal holders completed the setting.

The bride will complete her senior year in Wellsville High School in May and her husband is employed at the Sterling China Co. in Wellsville.

Quartet Chapter Sets Rehearsal

Plans for an area chorus rehearsal were made at the meeting of the East Liverpool SPEBSQSA Chapter Tuesday night at the Elks Club ballroom.

The group is comprised of chapters at Steubenville, Toronto and the Hill and Valley, near St. Clairsville. Guests may attend the practice set for Monday in preparation for singing at the local barbershop parade April 3 at Westgate School. Don Wood and Jerry Jividen will be social chairman for the rehearsal.

Charles Beaver, president, conducted business. R. J. Moore, parade ticket chairman, distributed tickets and announced the remainder will go on sale Tuesday at Robins & Sant.

Wilbur Newman was named parade treasurer. Tickets may be purchased from members for the afterglow to be held at St. Aloysius Parochial School Hall.

Couple Resides In Illinois City After Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Dukes are residing in Bellwood, Ill., following their marriage Feb. 27 at the St. Rose of Lima Catholic Church of Denison, Iowa.

The bride was Miss Nadine Brummer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Brummer of Dennison, and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dukes of West Point.

A gown of white organza over faille was worn by the bride, who carried a bouquet of carnations centered with an orchid. A pearl crown held her veil of French illusion.

Mrs. Marilyn Pallak, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Marty Newell, Mrs. Lance Booth and Mrs. Ronald Goslar. They wore royal blue dresses with matching headbands and carried cascades of carnations.

Rita Pastore, cousin of the bridegroom, was flower girl, and Dennis Brummer, the bride's brother, ringbearer.

Charles Pallak, brother-in-law of the bride, was best man. Ushers were Gerald Hickey, William Nero and Robert Sankey.

A reception for 260 followed in the social rooms. Mrs. Virginia Pastore of Lisbon, aunt of the bridegroom, served as an aide.

The bridegroom is a machinist at the Danley Machine Co. of Chicago.

If you are new at rolling out cookie dough, chill the dough and roll out only a small portion at a time. And be sure to use a prepared pastry cloth and stockinet covered rolling pin. The directions that come with the pastry set will tell you how to "prepare" it.

Projects Shown At Cubs Program

Projects of the boys were displayed when Cub Scout Pack 11 of the Emmanuel Presbyterian Church met Monday night with 48 attending.

Den 1 conducted the flag ceremony. Theme for the month was "South of the Border." Den 6 presented a pantomime skit.

Awards were presented to David Poe and Stephen Petrick. A donkey relay race was held.

Robert Bernstorf, cubmaster, announced applications for new members are being processed. A Webelos den will be started in April.

A fishing derby and cookout will be held in May.

A planning meeting will be held April 12 at the church. The pack will meet April 19 when Green Thumb projects will be judged.

Memorial Rites Held For Mayor Of Eaton

EATON, Ohio (AP)—A memorial service for Mayor Robert B. Peebles was scheduled for 2 p.m. today at the First Presbyterian Church.

Miss Barbara A. Heaton And Orval F. Adams Wed

The First Christian Church of Wellsville was the scene of the wedding of Miss Barbara Ann Heaton and Orval F. Adams, both of Wellsville, last Saturday, afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Heaton, 2025 Clark Ave., and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Adams, 1025 Commerce St.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown with Alencon lace bodice, scoop neckline, short sleeves featuring organza over taffeta skirt falling in soft folds.

Her waist-length veil was held in place by a crown of forward-effect organza pouff trimmed with lace and seed pearls with a bouffant veil of silk illusion. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. Her Colonial bouquet was centered with white carnations flanked by pink carnations and tied with white satin streamers.

Miss Peggy Lloyd, maid - of-honor, was attired in a street-length dress of frost blue with high-fitted bodice, short sleeves featuring a full skirt of nylon over taffeta. From her crown of white lace was draped a shoulder-length veil of silk illusion. Her Colonial bouquet was of white carnations tied with matching streamers.

The mother of the bride wore a pastel blue nylon suit and black accessories. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a black and white suit with black accessories. Both wore a white carnation corsage.

A reception for 100 followed in the church social rooms where Miss Patricia Braden, cousin of the bride, registered guests including those from New Waterford, Salem and Massillon. The Fellowship Class catered the reception. The buffet table was laid with a white cloth, the front of which was draped with pink nylon net with pink wild roses intermingled. It was centered with a four-tier wedding cake made by Mrs. Dorothy Bunfill and topped with a miniature bridal couple and pink and white carnations around the base. White tapers in crystal holders completed the setting.

The bride will complete her senior year in Wellsville High School in May and her husband is employed at the Sterling China Co. in Wellsville.

Quartet Chapter Sets Rehearsal

Plans for an area chorus rehearsal were made at the meeting of the East Liverpool SPEBSQSA Chapter Tuesday night at the Elks Club ballroom.

The group is comprised of chapters at Steubenville, Toronto and the Hill and Valley, near St. Clairsville. Guests may attend the practice set for Monday in preparation for singing at the local barbershop parade April 3 at Westgate School. Don Wood and Jerry Jividen will be social chairman for the rehearsal.

Charles Beaver, president, conducted business. R. J. Moore, parade ticket chairman, distributed tickets and announced the remainder will go on sale Tuesday at Robins & Sant.

Wilbur Newman was named parade treasurer. Tickets may be purchased from members for the afterglow to be held at St. Aloysius Parochial School Hall.

Couple Resides In Illinois City After Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Dukes are residing in Bellwood, Ill., following their marriage Feb. 27 at the St. Rose of Lima Catholic Church of Denison, Iowa.

The bride was Miss Nadine Brummer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Brummer of Dennison, and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dukes of West Point.

A gown of white organza over faille was worn by the bride, who carried a bouquet of carnations centered with an orchid. A pearl crown held her veil of French illusion.

Mrs. Marilyn Pallak, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Marty Newell, Mrs. Lance Booth and Mrs. Ronald Goslar. They wore royal blue dresses with matching headbands and carried cascades of carnations.

Rita Pastore, cousin of the bridegroom, was flower girl, and Dennis Brummer, the bride's brother, ringbearer.

Charles Pallak, brother-in-law of the bride, was best man. Ushers were Gerald Hickey, William Nero and Robert Sankey.

A reception for 260 followed in the social rooms. Mrs. Virginia Pastore of Lisbon, aunt of the bridegroom, served as an aide.

The bridegroom is a machinist at the Danley Machine Co. of Chicago.

If you are new at rolling out cookie dough, chill the dough and roll out only a small portion at a time. And be sure to use a prepared pastry cloth and stockinet covered rolling pin. The directions that come with the pastry set will tell you how to "prepare" it.

Projects Shown At Cubs Program

Projects of the boys were displayed when Cub Scout Pack 11 of the Emmanuel Presbyterian Church met Monday night with 48 attending.

Den 1 conducted the flag ceremony. Theme for the month was "South of the Border." Den 6 presented a pantomime skit.

Awards were presented to David Poe and Stephen Petrick. A donkey relay race was held.

Robert Bernstorf, cubmaster, announced applications for new members are being processed. A Webelos den will be started in April.

A fishing derby and cookout will be held in May.

A planning meeting will be held April 12 at the church. The pack will meet April 19 when Green Thumb projects will be judged.

Memorial Rites Held For Mayor Of Eaton

Traffic

a tractor - trailer operated by Ralph E. Hayes, 57, of Oak Hill jack - knifed broadside and then was hit by a skidding 1964 four-door sedan driven by William John Sullivan, 70, of Painesville, police said.

Sullivan told police he was about 125 feet behind the tractor - trailer when it skidded out of control. The Painesville man applied his brakes and his auto then hit the tractor after the rig had skidded to a stop crossways on the road, police said.

A bus and an auto were damaged in a minor collision on Elizabeth St. near Harvey Ave. at 11:49 a. m. Wednesday, officers said.

The Tri - State Transit Co. bus driven by Harold E. Watson, 65, of 1074 Pennsylvania Ave. was bumped from the rear by a 1963 two - door sedan operated by Larry E. Snyder, 20, of 2135 Michigan Ave., police said.

The bus driver told police he was slowing for the intersection when his vehicle was hit from the rear. Snyder said his car skidded on slippery pavement.

Meanwhile, James B. Chipps, 772 Woodlawn Ave., told police the left side of his 1958 sedan was damaged when struck by a hit - skip vehicle while parked on E. 9th St. at Woodlawn Ave. between 7 p. m. Wednesday and 5 a. m. today.

Woman Hit By Car

LISBON — Mrs. Camille Pardew, 64, resident of the Wick Hotel, was in "fair" condition today at Salem City Hospital with injuries suffered when struck by a car Wednesday night while crossing N. Market St. at the Public Square. Police said she was hit by the car of Kenneth Gallagher of Columbiana. Mrs. Pardew formerly operated Camille's dress Shop in Hanoverton.

Wreck Hurts Mother, Child

A Clinton area woman and her 6-month-old son were treated at City Hospital Wednesday morning for slight injuries after they were rescued by a telephone company repairman from their pickup truck, which skidded off Route 30 near Chester and rolled over several times before righting itself.

Mrs. Shirley Minich, 34, of Clinton R. D. 1 was treated for contusions and a possible whiplash injury of the back while her son, Joel, was treated for contusions of the forehead.

The Hancock County sheriff's office said it had no report of the accident.

Witnessing the accident blamed on slippery roads, Byers managed to stop and ran to the truck where the woman and her son remained inside.

He immediately turned off the ignition since the truck had started to smoke. After getting them out of the cab and making a preliminary examination, which showed no apparently serious injuries, he took the pair to City Hospital and then notified Mrs. Minich's husband, Sam Minich, of the accident.

Court Drops Charges Of Auto Theft, Assault

Charges which an East End couple had filed against each other in late February were dismissed today in Municipal Court by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff after Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark advised the court the man and wife "are reconciled and reunited."

Mrs. Kathryn Halstead of Alpha St. was named in an affidavit filed by her husband, James Halstead, alleging she drove away Feb. 21 in a 1959 sedan which Halstead had borrowed from Rex Kreefer of Baum St. The car later was recovered by the sheriff's office at Lisbon.

Mrs. Halstead had filed an assault and battery charge against her husband. She alleged he struck her Feb. 21, the same date as the alleged car incident. Both cases had been continued from Feb. 24.

6 Firemen At Newell Make Run To Home

Charles Lee, chief of the Newell fire department, said six firemen answered a call to the home of Carl Burch of Grant St., Wednesday afternoon about 2:30.

A television antenna fell on power lines leading to the home and knocking them to the ground. Lee said the wires smoked some after shorting but no fire resulted.

The power company was called to repair the wiring.

Traffic

a tractor - trailer operated by Ralph E. Hayes, 57, of Oak Hill jack - knifed broadside and then was hit by a skidding 1964 four-door sedan driven by William John Sullivan, 70, of Painesville, police said.

Sullivan told police he was about 125 feet behind the tractor - trailer when it skidded out of control. The Painesville man applied his brakes and his auto then hit the tractor after the rig had skidded to a stop crossways on the road, police said.

A bus and an auto were damaged in a minor collision on Elizabeth St. near Harvey Ave. at 11:49 a. m. Wednesday, officers said.

The Tri - State Transit Co. bus driven by Harold E. Watson, 65, of 1074 Pennsylvania Ave. was bumped from the rear by a 1963 two - door sedan operated by Larry E. Snyder, 20, of 2135 Michigan Ave., police said.

The bus driver told police he was slowing for the intersection when his vehicle was hit from the rear. Snyder said his car skidded on slippery pavement.

Meanwhile, James B. Chipps, 772 Woodlawn Ave., told police the left side of his 1958 sedan was damaged when struck by a hit - skip vehicle while parked on E. 9th St. at Woodlawn Ave. between 7 p. m. Wednesday and 5 a. m. today.

Woman Hit By Car

LISBON — Mrs. Camille Pardew, 64, resident of the Wick Hotel, was in "fair" condition today at Salem City Hospital with injuries suffered when struck by a car Wednesday night while crossing N. Market St. at the Public Square. Police said she was hit by the car of Kenneth Gallagher of Columbiana. Mrs. Pardew formerly operated Camille's dress Shop in Hanoverton.

Wreck Hurts Mother, Child

A Clinton area woman and her 6-month-old son were treated at City Hospital Wednesday morning for slight injuries after they were rescued by a telephone company repairman from their pickup truck, which skidded off Route 30 near Chester and rolled over several times before righting itself.

Mrs. Shirley Minich, 34, of Clinton R. D. 1 was treated for contusions and a possible whiplash injury of the back while her son, Joel, was treated for contusions of the forehead.

The Hancock County sheriff's office said it had no report of the accident.

Witnessing the accident blamed on slippery roads, Byers managed to stop and ran to the truck where the woman and her son remained inside.

He immediately turned off the ignition since the truck had started to smoke. After getting them out of the cab and making a preliminary examination, which showed no apparently serious injuries, he took the pair to City Hospital and then notified Mrs. Minich's husband, Sam Minich, of the accident.

Court Drops Charges Of Auto Theft, Assault

Charges which an East End couple had filed against each other in late February were dismissed today in Municipal Court by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff after Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark advised the court the man and wife "are reconciled and reunited."

Mrs. Kathryn Halstead of Alpha St. was named in an affidavit filed by her husband, James Halstead, alleging she drove away Feb. 21 in a 1959 sedan which Halstead had borrowed from Rex Kreefer of Baum St. The car later was recovered by the sheriff's office at Lisbon.

Mrs. Halstead had filed an assault and battery charge against her husband. She alleged he struck her Feb. 21, the same date as the alleged car incident. Both cases had been continued from Feb. 24.

6 Firemen At Newell Make Run To Home

Charles Lee, chief of the Newell fire department, said six firemen answered a call to the home of Carl Burch of Grant St., Wednesday afternoon about 2:30.

A television antenna fell on power lines leading to the home and knocking them to the ground. Lee said the wires smoked some after shorting but no fire resulted.

The power company was called to repair the wiring.

LISBON — Kenneth Fisher, son of Mrs. Clara Fisher of R. D. 4, has been promoted to specialist fourth class with the 2nd Armored Division at Ft. Hood, Tex. Fisher, 20, a mechanic with a headquarters company, attended United Local Schools.

Two Vitrified Officials Get Promotions

Promotions were announced today for two veteran employes serving in supervisory capacities with the East End plant of the American Vitrified Products Co.

Paul M. Calhoun Jr., present superintendent here, has been named manager of both Plant 1 at Uhrichsville and Plant 3 here.

Calhoun has been associated with American Vitrified since 1946, having served as superintendent the last five years. He and his wife reside at 408 W. 5th St. They have three children. They will maintain their residence here.

Brown and his wife reside at 204 Indiana Ave., Chester. They have a daughter. Brown has been with American Vitrified for 10 years.

Wellsville Honor Society Inducts 5

Five new members were initiated into the Wellsville High School National Honor Society at a ceremony Wednesday night at Piatt's Tea Room.

They are Bonnie Welch, Joe A. Bucher, Robert Mobley, Vickie Nixon and Linda Rolley.

Jim Dalrymple, president, was in charge of the program. Remarks were made by Supt. Lowell Myers, William Menough, high school principal, and Donald Lowe, assistant principal.

Soldiers' Aid Cost $90,377

LISBON — A total of $90,377 was spent for the operation of the soldiers relief commission during 1964, according to the yearly report. This is $28,930 less than was appropriated for the year.

A breakdown of expenditures shows $2,500 for salaries of the five board members; $17,712 compensation of investigation and clerks; $6,805, other expenses; $61,425, relief given out; $498, grave markers, and $1,436 Memorial Day expenses.

The 702 claims filed during the year included Joseph G. Reed of East Liverpool, county service officer 279; Walter McCoy, Leetonia, assistant service officer, 230; Virginia Mast, formerly of Lisbon and service office who resigned Feb. 28, 1964, 25; Mrs. Ruth E. Hughes, Columbiana, assistant service officer and clerk, 136, and Miss Cera E. Arnato of Lisbon, clerk-typist, 32.

Draft Board To Induct 17 Countians April 19

LISBON — The Columbiana County Draft Board has received a quota of 17 men for induction on April 19 as part of the state Selective Service quota.

The board also will forward 32 men for pre-induction physical exams on April 12.

The board sent 63 men to Cleveland Wednesday for pre-induction physicals, completing the March activity.

South Beaver Board Fights Merger Plan

The Southern Beaver County School Board, at a special meeting at Hookstown Wednesday night, decided to continue efforts to remain as an independent school district, rather than merge with the Hopewell-Independence - Raccoon School District, as recommended by the Pennsylvania Board of Education under the state reorganization plan.

The State Board of Education last week rejected an appeal of the Southern Beaver Board against the merger.

Victor Thomas, supervising principal, said that after the board receives the formal notice of rejection of its plea, the board will continue to fight the move and "take the matter into the courts if necessary."

"This move," he said, "of course will hinge on the advice of the solicitor."

Dr. J. Richard Fruth, assistant Beaver County superintendent of schools, explained the proposed community college program for the county.

He also noted the differences between the community college proposals and the establishment of branch campuses of already-established colleges.

The board took no formal action, according to Thomas, since Dr. Fruth attended only to explain the proposals for board members.

Individual members of each county board will have an opportunity to vote on the community college program at a meeting of the county Board of Education March 29 in the Beaver Area High School.

If the proposal is approved, it will then be submitted to each individual district board in the county for it to decide if it wishes to participate.

Geology Team Checks Beaver County Farms

Geology investigations for pond construction were conducted this past week by the U. S. Soil Conservation Service on Beaver County farms owned by Dr. Joseph Helfrich and the South Side Sportsmen's Club.

The investigations were conducted by SCS personnel, Gregory C. Johnson, geologist; Andrews R. Yerman, agricultural engineer, and James S. Johnson, work unit conservationist.

Dr. Helfrich, of Midland, plans to construct a pond with six surface acres of water on his 105-acre farm in Ohio Township. The South Side Sportsmen's Club pond, on its property in Hanover Township will cover 2½ surface acres. Both of these ponds are practices planned in basic soil and water conservation plans that the SCS has assisted in developing for these properties. The ponds will have a combined water storage of 39 acre feet, or 12.7 million gallons.

Youth Cited At Lisbon

LISBON — Ernest Dillon Jr., 18, of R. D. 1 posted a $15 appearance bond on a charge of crashing a red light after a collision this morning at 5:50 at W. Lincoln Way and S. Beaver St. involving his 1956 sedan and a truck operated by Floyd Meister, 43, of 15 W. Main St., Salineville, police reported. There was $100 damage to each vehicle, police said.

Midland Scout Events Planned

Members of Midland Explorer Post 482 are making arrangements to participate in a gymnastics contest May 7-8 at the Civic Arena at Pittsburgh.

The post, sponsored by the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., also has 10 members taking canoe trails training in preparation for a 10-day trip in July or August.

Factory Nurses Name Delegates

Delegates to the national convention were named at the dinner meeting of Tri-State Valley Industrial Nurses Association Tuesday night at Ft. Steuben Hotel in Steubenville.

Mrs. Ruby Webb of the Hall China Co., association president, will serve as delegate and will be accompanied by Miss Frances O'Leary and Miss Isabel Hinton, both of Weirton Steel Co., to the event April 5-8 at Miami, Fla.

The speaker at the dinner was Dr. Nissin Benado, director of the Jefferson County Guidance Center and Mental Health Clinic. A native of Austria who practiced in Switzerland, he spoke on "Mental Health In Industry."

Mrs. Webb conducted routine business. Others attended from here were Mrs. Helen Hargreaves of the Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co. and Mrs. Jane Garner of the Homer Laughlin China Co.

The next session will be held April 20 at the June Lee Tea Room near Wintersville. The program will be "The Amazing Laser."

Hokkaido, Japan's big northern island, produces one - third of the country's coal, fish, timber and pulp. Its farms yield 70 per cent of Japan's butter and half its cheese.

Ohioville Cabin Fire Causes $6,000 Loss

Damadge was estimated at $6,000 in a fire which destroyed a vacant log house just off the Fredericktown Rd., on Beeler Run Rd. in the Ohioville area, Wednesday night.

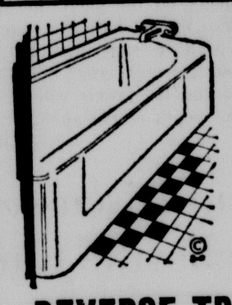

Firemen from the Ohioville fire department answered a call about 11:23 p. m. Wednesday and were there until 2:10 a.m. today. They received another call at about 4:23, and found the structure virtually burned to the ground. It had apparently restarted.

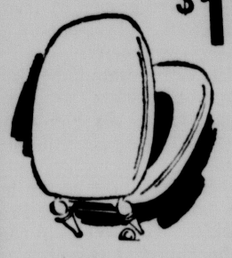

Cpl. Michael Motily of the Butler Barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police was at the scene this morning for an investigation.

Draft Board To Induct 17 Countians April 19

LISBON — The Columbiana County Draft Board has received a quota of 17 men for induction on April 19 as part of the state Selective Service quota.

The board also will forward 32 men for pre-induction physical exams on April 12.

The board sent 63 men to Cleveland Wednesday for pre-induction physicals, completing the March activity.

South Beaver Board Fights Merger Plan

The Southern Beaver County School Board, at a special meeting at Hookstown Wednesday night, decided to continue efforts to remain as an independent school district, rather than merge with the Hopewell-Independence - Raccoon School District, as recommended by the Pennsylvania Board of Education under the state reorganization plan.

The State Board of Education last week rejected an appeal of the Southern Beaver Board against the merger.

Victor Thomas, supervising principal, said that after the board receives the formal notice of rejection of its plea, the board will continue to fight the move and "take the matter into the courts if necessary."

"This move," he said, "of course will hinge on the advice of the solicitor."

Dr. J. Richard Fruth, assistant Beaver County superintendent of schools, explained the proposed community college program for the county.

He also noted the differences between the community college proposals and the establishment of branch campuses of already-established colleges.

The board took no formal action, according to Thomas, since Dr. Fruth attended only to explain the proposals for board members.

Individual members of each county board will have an opportunity to vote on the community college program at a meeting of the county Board of Education March 29 in the Beaver Area High School.

If the proposal is approved, it will then be submitted to each individual district board in the county for it to decide if it wishes to participate.

Geology Team Checks Beaver County Farms

Geology investigations for pond construction were conducted this past week by the U. S. Soil Conservation Service on Beaver County farms owned by Dr. Joseph Helfrich and the South Side Sportsmen's Club.

The investigations were conducted by SCS personnel, Gregory C. Johnson, geologist; Andrews R. Yerman, agricultural engineer, and James S. Johnson, work unit conservationist.

Dr. Helfrich, of Midland, plans to construct a pond with six surface acres of water on his 105-acre farm in Ohio Township. The South Side Sportsmen's Club pond, on its property in Hanover Township will cover 2½ surface acres. Both of these ponds are practices planned in basic soil and water conservation plans that the SCS has assisted in developing for these properties. The ponds will have a combined water storage of 39 acre feet, or 12.7 million gallons.

Youth Cited At Lisbon

LISBON — Ernest Dillon Jr., 18, of R. D. 1 posted a $15 appearance bond on a charge of crashing a red light after a collision this morning at 5:50 at W. Lincoln Way and S. Midland Scout Events Planned

Members of Midland Explorer Post 482 are making arrangements to participate in a gymnastics contest May 7-8 at the Civic Arena at Pittsburgh.

The post, sponsored by the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., also has 10 members taking canoe trails training in preparation for a 10-day trip in July or August.

Factory Nurses Name Delegates

Delegates to the national convention were named at the dinner meeting of Tri-State Valley Industrial Nurses Association Tuesday night at Ft. Steuben Hotel in Steubenville.

Mrs. Ruby Webb of the Hall China Co., association president, will serve as delegate and will be accompanied by Miss Frances O'Leary and Miss Isabel Hinton, both of Weirton Steel Co., to the event April 5-8 at Miami, Fla.

The speaker at the dinner was Dr. Nissin Benado, director of the Jefferson County Guidance Center and Mental Health Clinic. A native of Austria who practiced in Switzerland, he spoke on "Mental Health In Industry."

Mrs. Webb conducted routine business. Others attended from here were Mrs. Helen Hargreaves of the Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co. and Mrs. Jane Garner of the Homer Laughlin China Co.

The next session will be held April 20 at the June Lee Tea Room near Wintersville. The program will be "The Amazing Laser."

Ohioville Cabin Fire Causes $6,000 Loss

Damadge was estimated at $6,000 in a fire which destroyed a vacant log house just off the Fredericktown Rd., on Beeler Run Rd. in the Ohioville area, Wednesday night.

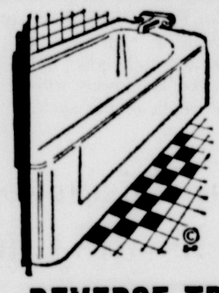

Firemen from the Ohioville fire department answered a call about 11:23 p. m. Wednesday and were there until 2:10 a.m. today. They received another call at about 4:23, and found the structure virtually burned to the ground. It had apparently restarted.

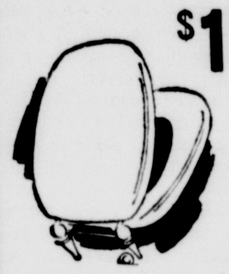

Cpl. Michael Motily of the Butler Barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police was at the scene this morning for an investigation.

The Navy's nuclear - powered aircraft carrier, Enterprise, largest ship in the world, steamed nearly 35,000 miles at an average of 22 knots without refueling along the way.

Dear Heloise: My family is thrilled because I have found a brand new way of using hamburger meat!

When I prepare the hamburger meat, I shape it to look like wieners. Then, I just cook it the same way as ordinary hamburgers, but serve them on hot dog rolls.

My kids just love 'em. . . .

MRS. REX INGRAM.

HONEY: Your family has a right to be proud.

Can just picture the amazed and delighted expressions on those angel-faces, when they see their "burger-dog"! !

And for those who love fried fish sandwiches. . . Know you can put fish sticks in hot dog buns? Fit perfectly.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: I love your column. You sound a little bit crazy but that must be from testing all the oggy ideas you receive. Thanks loads.

A READER.

DEAR HELOISE: Could you please come to my rescue and tell me how to remove rust stains from my stainless steel and chrome fixtures in my kitchen and bathroom?

DESPERATE HOUSEWIFE.

STAINLESS STEEL, RUST: Pour lighter fluid on paper napkin, or tissue and rub briskly.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When making a "flannel jacket" for those who have chest coughs, I use the front and collar of a top of old PJ's.

ROBIN OTT.

DEAR HELOISE: Need extra space for bath towels?

Before you make that final fold which makes the towel into a square just roll it instead.

A little experimenting and you can make your initial fold so that the towels will fit just the depth of the shelf.

READER.

DEAR HELOISE: I, too, have a perspiration problem! Some of my old cotton blouses were badly stained.

I tried full strength hydrogen peroxide on an old white cotton blouse—it worked—and now I use it on everything, including white dacron, drip-dry and most of the miracle fabrics.

I just pour on the peroxide and then wash in the usual way.

MRS. A. S. ARMSTRONG.

GALS: Be sue to spot test the fabric first, on a hidden seam to see if peroxide is safe for your particular material.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Another use for that great nylon net. This time for shower doors!

I keep a net ball hanging in my shower. After taking a shower and before getting out, I use soap on the net ball and scrub glass doors.

Then I turn on the shower spray and turn nozzle on glass to rinse. I keep an extra towel handy to dry and shine the glass, and I always have pretty clean shower doors.

Native Of Ireland Discusses Country For Wellsville Club

A resume of Ireland's beliefs and folklore was given by John Brown of New Cumberland, manager of the Shamrock Hardware store in Wellsville, at a meeting of the Wellsville Kiwanis Club Tuesday noon at Piatt's Tea Room.

The popularity of the shamrock as a symbol stems from a story that St. Patrick supposedly used the plant to explain the Holy Trinity, he said.

Brown, who comes from North Ireland, has taken out his first papers for United States citizenship.

The directors authorized an appropriation to pay for registration fees for Key Club members attending a convention April 9-10 at Cleveland.

The directors also authorized the public and business affairs committee to spearhead a drive to obtain the co - operation of other civic groups in trying to get another physician to locate in the community.

The same committee also will set up a business, industry and education day observance in the schools. The groups will tour the facilities.

April 24 was set as the tentative date for a Mayor's Prayer breakfast. This will be in charge of the board of churches committee.

Stanton Local Musicians Given 3 Superior Ratings

HAMMONDSVILLE — Three superior ratings, eight excellent and two very good were won by Stanton Local High School students who participated in the District 8 solo and ensemble contest Saturday at Massillon Perry High School.

Superior ratings went to Jim Pilutti and Ed Rosenlieb, bass solos, and Barbara Banfield, Edna Russell, Marsha Grafton, Debbie Glenn, Ed Rosenlieb, Jerry Johnston, Jim Pilutti and John Leedy, a mixed ensemble.

110 At Easter Bonnet Show, Luncheon Of Band Mothers

Everything from a "popcorn" straw to a "dome" pillbox was modeled at the Easter bonnet style show and luncheon of the East Liverpool High School Band and Orchestra Mothers Wednesday afternoon at the Travelers Hotel. About 110 attended.

Harbingers of spring, the chapeau were fluttery, feminine, tailored and mannish.

In the floral department, there vere cloche styles featuring romance - pink pearl - tipped flowers, silk rose petals and tiny buds. Another was completely covered with pansies and forsythia and still another with all shades of lilacs, touched off with a deep purple band.

For traveling, a ribbon straw packable cloche provided a dressy interest for the suit. For wear with several ensembles, a combination black, white and brown roller was modeled.

Other millinery included a polka dot tie silk sailor, a cuff toque, a fancy turban and the skimmer, good for all occasions.

Mrs. Francis Lang was commentator and Mrs. A. D. Hamilton provided the piano backgroun music. The hats were from the D. M. Ogilvie Co.

The tables were decorated with carnations, tinted green, and shamrocks. Favors were miniature spring bonnet pin cushions. Mrs. Fred Yonz and Mrs. Jacob Goempel arranged decorations.

Mrs. Albert Rodenhausen, wife of the pastor of the First Baptist Church, gave the blessing.

Crucible Asks Patent On Stainless Steel Bar

HELOISE.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: I love your column. You sound a little bit crazy but that must be from testing all the oggy ideas you receive. Thanks loads.

A READER.

DEAR HELOISE: Could you please come to my rescue and tell me how to remove rust stains from my stainless steel and chrome fixtures in my kitchen and bathroom?

DESPERATE HOUSEWIFE.

STAINLESS STEEL, RUST: Pour lighter fluid on paper napkin, or tissue and rub briskly.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When making a "flannel jacket" for those who have chest coughs, I use the front and collar of a top of old PJ's.

ROBIN OTT.

DEAR HELOISE: Need extra space for bath towels?

Before you make that final fold which makes the towel into a square just roll it instead.

A little experimenting and you can make your initial fold so that the towels will fit just the depth of the shelf.

READER.

DEAR HELOISE: I, too, have a perspiration problem! Some of my old cotton blouses were badly stained.

I tried full strength hydrogen peroxide on an old white cotton blouse—it worked—and now I use it on everything, including white dacron, drip-dry and most of the miracle fabrics.

I just pour on the peroxide and then wash in the usual way.

MRS. A. S. ARMSTRONG.

GALS: Be sue to spot test the fabric first, on a hidden seam to see if peroxide is safe for your particular material.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Another use for that great nylon net. This time for shower doors!

I keep a net ball hanging in my shower. After taking a shower and before getting out, I use soap on the net ball and scrub glass doors.

Then I turn on the shower spray and turn nozzle on glass to rinse. I keep an extra towel handy to dry and shine the glass, and I always have pretty clean shower doors.

EMMA.

Legion Sons' Meeting Set

A meeting to revamp the Sons of Legion group was called by James Cregar, commander, when American Legion Post 374 met Monday night.

He said the sons' group meeting will be held tonight at 8 and all interested adults and parents are invited.

Harry Dawson, a trustee, announced that the new neon sign for the post had been erected. James Wallover, service officer, said John Cunningham was a patient at the Pittsburgh Hospital and Crede Morris at the Oakmont Veterans Hospital.

Cregar reminded members the annual spring conference will be held March 27-28 at Post 522 in Strasburg, and that the Veterans City Council will meet Friday in Mayor Merrill Hall's office.

Rodney Stull gave the financial report and Tommy Davidson reported on bowling activities.

Summer Study Set

CLEVELAND (AP) — Fifty East Side high school students will study at a summer program under a $15,275 grant awarded to Case University and Western Reserve University Wednesday by the Martha Holden Jenning Foundation. Emphasis will be on English and mathematics.

Native Of Ireland Discusses Country For Wellsville Club

A resume of Ireland's beliefs and folklore was given by John Brown of New Cumberland, manager of the Shamrock Hardware store in Wellsville, at a meeting of the Wellsville Kiwanis Club Tuesday noon at Piatt's Tea Room.

The popularity of the shamrock as a symbol stems from a story that St. Patrick supposedly used the plant to explain the Holy Trinity, he said.

Brown, who comes from North Ireland, has taken out his first papers for United States citizenship.

The directors authorized an appropriation to pay for registration fees for Key Club members attending a convention April 9-10 at Cleveland.

The directors also authorized the public and business affairs committee to spearhead a drive to obtain the co - operation of other civic groups in trying to get another physician to locate in the community.

The same committee also will set up a business, industry and education day observance in the schools. The groups will tour the facilities.

April 24 was set as the tentative date for a Mayor's Prayer breakfast. This will be in charge of the board of churches committee.

Stanton Local Musicians Given 3 Superior Ratings

HAMMONDSVILLE — Three superior ratings, eight excellent and two very good were won by Stanton Local High School students who participated in the District 8 solo and ensemble contest Saturday at Massillon Perry High School.

Superior ratings went to Jim Pilutti and Ed Rosenlieb, bass solos, and Barbara Banfield, Edna Russell, Marsha Grafton, Debbie Glenn, Ed Rosenlieb, Jerry Johnston, Jim Pilutti and John Leedy, a mixed ensemble.

110 At Easter Bonnet Show, Luncheon Of Band Mothers

Everything from a "popcorn" straw to a "dome" pillbox was modeled at the Easter bonnet style show and luncheon of the East Liverpool High School Band and Orchestra Mothers Wednesday afternoon at the Travelers Hotel. About 110 attended.

Harbingers of spring, the chapeau were fluttery, feminine, tailored and mannish.

In the floral department, there were cloche styles featuring romance - pink pearl - tipped flowers, silk rose petals and tiny buds. Another was completely covered with pansies and forsythia and still another with all shades of lilacs, touched off with a deep purple band.

Among the straws were the high crown rough straw, the small brim sailor, and the large brim braided straw.

For traveling, a ribbon straw packable cloche provided a dressy interest for the suit. For wear with several ensembles, a combination black, white and brown roller was modeled.

Other millinery included a polka dot tie silk sailor, a cuff toque, a fancy turban and the skimmer, good for all occasions.

Mrs. Francis Lang was commentator and Mrs. A. D. Hamilton provided the piano backgroun music. The hats were from the D. M. Ogilvie Co.

The tables were decorated with carnations, tinted green, and shamrocks. Favors were miniature spring bonnet pin cushions. Mrs. Fred Yonz and Mrs. Jacob Goempel arranged decorations.

Mrs. Albert Rodenhausen, wife of the pastor of the First Baptist Church, gave the blessing.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Please print this letter, not only for my sake but for all teen-agers who have this problem—and I'll bet there are millions.

It's my mother. Whenever my mother is in the car and I'm driving, she bugs me until I'm ready to jump out of my skin.

It's, "Watch out for those kids, Billy. You're awfully close to the car ahead, Billy! The fellow behind you is going to pass you, Billy. You're driving too fast. Use those mirrors. Watch that light."

I've been driving for two years and I never have had an accident, a ticket or even a warning.

I'm a much better driver than my mother and most of my friends are better drivers than their mothers, but we all get bugged just the same.

I beg you to say something in your column about this, Ann Landers, but please be fair to us. Think back to when you were a teen-ager—or did they have cars in those days? — FLINT, MICH.

Dear Flint: That last line is not likely to get me on your side, Kid. I will say something, however, in behalf of teen-agers who drive carefully and have perfect safety records. You do deserve support.

A yelling mother destroys the confidence of a teen-age driver. Moreover, it can be dangerously distracting to have someone shouting orders.

Double Trouble

Dear Ann: I just read the letter about the two couples who started out changing partners on the dance floor and ended up changing partners legally.

That letter was especially interesting because I was involved in one of those switcheroos, myself. Here's what happened:

Both couples had been married more than 15 years. We had two children. They had three. It was the talk of the town when we decided to switch but we thought we could rise above the gossip and show everybody.

Well, the other man committed suicide two years later. His widow (my ex-wife) has been married twice since then. My marriage went on the rocks two months later because my wife (the ex of the man who committed suicide) decided it was all her fault. She drove me crazy with her self-incrimination, and we got a divorce. The last I heard she was in a mental hospital.

I have remarried and am happy now but I don't feel I deserve to be happy because of what has happened to the rest of the original foursome.

So please, Ann Landers, tell folks that the grass on the other side of the fence has just as many burrs and weeds as the grass on the home side. Maybe more.—A RETREAD.

Dear Tread: YOU told em.

Brainless Beauty

Dear Ann: The problem I am writing about is my brother's wife. She has a divine figure, huge eyes, a dimple in her chin and no brains.

Their sons 8, 10, and 11 are terrors. She admits they are too much for here. When they fight she locks herself in her room anl turns on the radio to drown out the noise. Her continuing threat is, "Wait until your father comes home. You'll get it."

Their father travels and when he does come home he doesn't feel like hitting the kids for something they did a week ago. He's a swell person, Ann, but he doesn't know what to do with his children either. Can you help?—S.I.O.

Dear S.I.O.: The parents should go together to the school principal and ask him to suggest a counselor. Parents who are unable to handle their children should get outside help. They should not give up and let the kids run wild.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of the Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

Book Suggested On Subject Of Reading

There never was a time when so many parents and teachers were so eager to read professional books and articles on the teaching of reading. If you go to your public library and wish to find certain books or articles on this subject, you may have trouble finding them. If the library is large enough to have them, they may be in use there or be out among borrowers; especially so if a university or one or more colleges are near.

Dr. Garry Myers

As the teaching of reading is so widely emphasized by students of education, there is great demand for such materials. In the college or university library the demand for this literature, especially of the professional magazines, is so great that many students just can't get at them.

WHAT makes the problem more serious is the growing, unspeakable practice by some selfish students of cutting out certain articles from the magazines in the library.

Dr. Walter Barbe, now an editor of a children's magazine, who was, for many years, head of the department of special education at Kent State University at Kent, Ohio, and a teacher of courses there on reading and on gifted children, grew more and more aware of the foregoing problem.

He got the happy idea of compiling and editing a volume of special articles by leading authorities, widely used in courses on reading. This volume, "Teaching Reading: Selected Materials," has been published recently by Oxford University Press, New York. In paper cover it sells at $4.00.

It should prove a great boon to many thousands of college students, and others wishing to find easy access to so useful source materials. When you glance over the names of the contributors you see a veritable "who's who" of the leading authorities in the field of teaching reading. You may have heard or seen the names of many of them during the last several decades.

THEY include Barbe, Betts, Brownell, Buckingham, Buswell, Brownell, Buckingham, Buswell, Coomer, Dale, Dearborn, Dolch, Durkin, Durrell, Fernald, Flesch, Gates, William Gray, Harris, Hildreth, Ernest Horn, Hurlock, Judd, McCracken, McCullough, Marion Monroe, Olson, Pressey, Helen Robinson, Russell, Sartain, Shores, Nila Smith, Stauffer, Strang, E. L. Thorndike, Robert Thorndike and Witty—to name a few. Witty, the "giant" among them, writes the introduction to "Teaching Reading: Selected Materials."

Whether you favor the phonics approach or the look-and-say (word method) approach or a combination of both, you can find what the leading authorities in the teaching of reading say about it.

My bulletins, "Helping Child at Home in Early Steps of Reading," "Home Helps for Poor Readers I & II," and "Fun with Phonics," may be secured by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Man Fatally Injured As Car Rams Train

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — Injuries suffered when his car rammed into the side of a slow-moving freight train Tuesday night proved fatal to 60-year-old Roy C. Croft of Lima.

Accepts Resignation

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP) — The Elyria Board of Education accepted the resignation of School Superintendent Dr. Franklin Gottfried Wednesday. Gottfried, who has been superintendent the past 12 years, has accepted a similar post near Chicago.

Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

Book Suggested On Subject Of Reading

There never was a time when so many parents and teachers were so eager to read professional books and articles on the teaching of reading. If you go to your public library and wish to find certain books or articles on this subject, you may have trouble finding them. If the library is large enough to have them, they may be in use there or be out among borrowers; especially so if a university or one or more colleges are near.

Dr. Garry Myers

As the teaching of reading is so widely emphasized by students of education, there is great demand for such materials. In the college or university library the demand for this literature, especially of the professional magazines, is so great that many students just can't get at them.

WHAT makes the problem more serious is the growing, unspeakable practice by some selfish students of cutting out certain articles from the magazines in the library.

Dr. Walter Barbe, now an editor of a children's magazine, who was, for many years, head of the department of special education at Kent State University at Kent, Ohio, and a teacher of courses there on reading and on gifted children, grew more and more aware of the foregoing problem.

He got the happy idea of compiling and editing a volume of special articles by leading authorities, widely used in courses on reading. This volume, "Teaching Reading: Selected Materials," has been published recently by Oxford University Press, New York. In paper cover it sells at $4.00.

It should prove a great boon to many thousands of college students, and others wishing to find easy access to so useful source materials. When you glance over the names of the contributors you see a veritable "who's who" of the leading authorities in the field of teaching reading. You may have heard or seen the names of many of them during the last several decades.

Whether you favor the phonics approach or the look-and-say (word method) approach or a combination of both, you can find what the leading authorities in the teaching of reading say about it.

My bulletins, "Helping Child at Home in Early Steps of Reading," "Home Helps for Poor Readers I & II," and "Fun with Phonics," may be secured by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Midland Best In West After Ripping Schenley, 76-62; Faces Steelton Saturday In Harrisburg For State Title

Brown Scores 21, Vanlier, Hill Tally 18

Midland High's unbeatable Leopards proved to be the best in the West Wednesday night and they'll be out to prove they're the best in the whole state of Pennsylvania when they meet Steelton in the Class "A" state championship game Saturday at Harrisburg.

MIDLAND was never any better than in its latest victory, which has to go down in the books as an all-out team effort that saw every member of the starting lineup playing some of their finest basketball.

While Midland was deciding the contest in Pittsburgh by midway through the second quarter, Steelton, which by the way is Kuzma's home town, was having little trouble handling Mahanoy Area High in walking away with a 63-42 victory at Harrisburg.

THE APPEARANCE in the state final is the first for Midland, the smallest school enrollment-wise in the WPIAL Class A ranks. The Leopards had never advanced farther than the WPIAL finals in past years.

As the competition got tougher along the tournament trail, Midland's attack sharpened and in each case the Leopards have been more than equal to the task.

It was 27 games ago when the trial which eventually leads to Harrisburg began. If you win them all, you're certain to get there. Midland has done just that!

THE LEOPARDS turned in a sizzling 65 per cent shooting mark in the first half which left the Fieldhouse crowd buzzing, but Schenley almost equaled that mark by canning 60 per cent of its attempts.

Midland made 19 of 29 shots in the first two periods, but was given a scare in the first period and halfway through the second quarter before pulling away to a commanding 15-point margin by halftime.

The Leopards at one time actually found themselves behind by the largest margin by which they have trailed in the tournament. That was when Schenley held a 13-10 lead in the first quarter. Then, with 2:08 showing on the clock in the opening period, fabulous Sim Hill put Midland in front to stay 14-13.

MIDLAND'S changing defense put a crimp in Schenley's style. The Pittsburgh five, which entered the game with a 19-2 record, finished with 62 points, 30 points under their average of 92 per game.

Kuzma ordered a man-to-man defense, then switched off into varied zone alignments to keep the Schenley five confused.

Four of Midland's five starters hit in the double figures and in each case had one exceptional quarter.

NUMEROUS turnovers in the first quarter hampered the Schenley attack so badly the Spartans never quite got started.

While the backcourt job was being run flawlessly, Hill and his running mate, Ron Brown, the silent type, were working over the inside.

Hill moved into the bucket for 18 points and even flashed a seldom-used hook shot that whistled through the cords on one occasion.

Vanlier, with all his floor maneuvers, also drilled in 18 points. Lake added 12 and Alston chipped in with five to round out the Leopard scoring.

BROWN made seven of 15 shots, with Hill good on eight of 16. Vanlier didn't miss often, showing seven of 11. Lake took 12 and made four and Alston two of six.

Schenley offered Midland a stiff battle in the first quarter and the contest had all the earmarks of a close one all the way.

Guard Ed Gibson turned in a three-point play and Durrett got rolling as Schenley pulled within four points, 29-25. But Vanlier and Hill were to have their best quarters of the game.

VANLIER scored 12 points in the second period and Hill added nine as Midland outscored Schenley, 31-18, during those eight minutes.

Late in the second frame, a pair of goals by Hill and one by Vanlier, pushed Midland in front, 44-31, and the contest was pretty well decided at this point.

Brown had a fine third period with nine points and Midland protected its 15-point halftime margin and held a 67-48 advantage at the end of three quarters.

Durrett, who scored 30 points in the victory over Erie Strong Vincent in the Western Regional semi-final game Saturday, finished with 16 points, while McGill came in with 12 and Gibson 10.

Hill and Brown pulled down 16 and 15 rebounds, respectively, for the Leopards, while Durrett led Schenley by taking 15 off the board.

Over all, Midland finished with a 56 per cent shooting mark on 29 of 62, with Schenley 44 per cent on 26 of 59.

Grew Up With Steelton Coach

Kuzma Is Returning Home To Play In State Finals

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Home to Hank by a strange coincidence is Steelton, where he grew up—and did a good job in doing so, standing about 6-3. At least that's what he was when he labored on the basketball court for Duquesne University.

—:—

THE STATE final game has several odd twists to it.

"Benkovich and I grew up together, but never played on the same team. I played at Steelton while Marty was on the Harrisburg Catholic squad. We did play independent basketball against each other," Kuzma added.

AS KUZMA said last night after the game, "It's a long time since I've been home and my mother told me the only way I'll see your team play is if you bring it to Harrisburg."

She is having her wish fulfilled. Kuzma pointed out that he took his Steubenville College team to Harrisburg several years ago and his parents saw that team, but never have watched any of his high school squads.

KUZMA, WHO is a serious fellow around the basketball court, wore what you would have to term a smile after the game. He couldn't hold it back. All his work, his stern teaching has paid off as his team gets set to battle for the state title Saturday night.

Looking over the Western regional win, someone mentioned his team's 65 per cent shooting mark in the first half. Kuzma replied, "We're a capable shooting team, although I didn't realize at the time it was that high."

"I FELT our defense was a little sloppy in the first half, but Schenley is a good club. I didn't expect their outside shooting to be so effective in the first half."

As far as his team was concerned, Kuzma, who has hit the jackpot in his fifth year at Midland, said, "We are consistent: They play well together; they are very unselfish."

"Other coaches have told me all season that they look for outstanding players on a team to be selfish with the ball, because this is a weakness, but they couldn't find that on this team."

SHOWERING praise on the club was William Walters, Midland High principal, who was basketball coach there from 1938 to 1945.

"It's wonderful what they have accomplished." Walters said. "We're proud of them and they have been gentlemen about it all the way. We draw compliments on the behavior wherever we play."

Final Tickets On Sale All Day In Midland

Tickets for the Midland-Steelton state final game Saturday at the Farm Show Arena in Harrisburg will be on sale all day today at the Midland High gymnasium. The sale started at 9 a. m. today and was to end at 9 p. m.

Vic Martinetti, athletic director, announced that an ample supply of tickets are available.

From 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. today tickets are being sold to all season bookholders, parents of athletes and residents of the Midland school district. Six tickets can be purchased by any one person.

After 4 p.m. and until 9 p.m. tickets will be sold to the general public in the tri-state area.

Martinetti said no tickets will be sold on Friday because the unused tickets must be returned to Harrisburg.

Steelton Tops Mahanoy For Shot At Title

HARRISBURG—Steelton won its way to the state final contest against Midland by romping to a 63-42 victory over Mahanoy Area here Wednesday night at the Farm Show Arena, before 8,000 fans.

Steelton decided the contest in the second quarter by outscoring Mahanoy, 18-5, and held a commanding 33-14 lead at halftime.

Grew Up With Steelton Coach

Kuzma Is Returning Home To Play In State Finals

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Home to Hank by a strange coincidence is Steelton, where he grew up—and did a good job in doing so, standing about 6-3. At least that's what he was when he labored on the basketball court for Duquesne University.

—:—

THE STATE final game has several odd twists to it.

"Benkovich and I grew up together, but never played on the same team. I played at Steelton while Marty was on the Harrisburg Catholic squad. We did play independent basketball against each other," Kuzma added.

And Kuzma's mother and father will be seeing his Midland team for the first time.

AS KUZMA said last night after the game, "It's a long time since I've been home and my mother told me the only way I'll see your team play is if you bring it to Harrisburg."

She is having her wish fulfilled. Kuzma pointed out that he took his Steubenville College team to Harrisburg several years ago and his parents saw that team, but never have watched any of his high school squads.

Hank's mother and father still reside in Steelton.

KUZMA, WHO is a serious fellow around the basketball court, wore what you would have to term a smile after the game. He couldn't hold it back. All his work, his stern teaching has paid off as his team gets set to battle for the state title Saturday night.

Looking over the Western regional win, someone mentioned his team's 65 per cent shooting mark in the first half. Kuzma replied, "We're a capable shooting team, although I didn't realize at the time it was that high."

"I FELT our defense was a little sloppy in the first half, but Schenley is a good club. I didn't expect their outside shooting to be so effective in the first half."

As far as his team was concerned, Kuzma, who has hit the jackpot in his fifth year at Midland, said, "We are consistent: They play well together; they are very unselfish."

"Other coaches have told me all season that they look for outstanding players on a team to be selfish with the ball, because this is a weakness, but they couldn't find that on this team."

SHOWERING praise on the club was William Walters, Midland High principal, who was basketball coach there from 1938 to 1945.

"It's wonderful what they have accomplished." Walters said. "We're proud of them and they have been gentlemen about it all the way. We draw compliments on the behavior wherever we play."

Final Tickets On Sale All Day In Midland

Tickets for the Midland-Steelton state final game Saturday at the Farm Show Arena in Harrisburg will be on sale all day today at the Midland High gymnasium. The sale started at 9 a. m. today and was to end at 9 p. m.

Vic Martinetti, athletic director, announced that an ample supply of tickets are available.

From 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. today tickets are being sold to all season bookholders, parents of athletes and residents of the Midland school district. Six tickets can be purchased by any one person.

After 4 p.m. and until 9 p.m. tickets will be sold to the general public in the tri-state area.

Martinetti said no tickets will be sold on Friday because the unused tickets must be returned to Harrisburg.

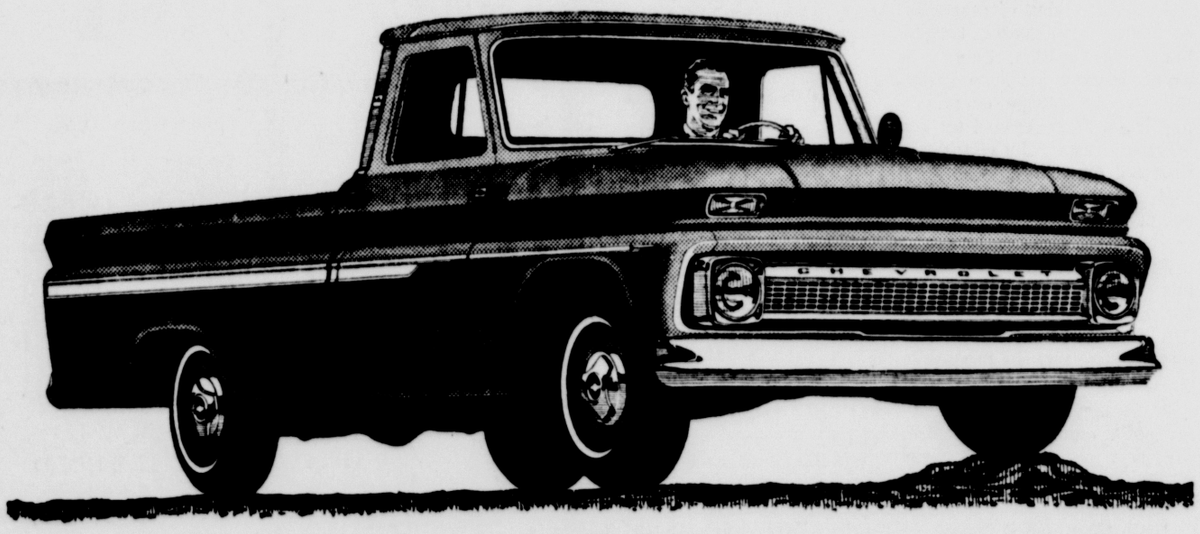

All seats are reserved at $2.50 each. There is no general admission.

NIT Squads Will Battle For Final Spots Tonight

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — There will be Indian war whoops and the beat of drums as the emotional-charged St. John's University Redmen battle Army and top-seeded Villanova encounters NYU in the semifinals of the National Invitation basketball tournament tonight.

The Redmen, 18-8, have vowed to win the NIT as a present for the Big Indian, Coach Joe Lapchick who is retiring at the end of the season at the age of 65. And despite a two-point 58-56 defeat at West Point during the regular season the Redmen are favored to whip the Cadets, 20-8, this time.

Villanova, 22-4 and eighth ranked in the final Associated Press poll of the season, similarly is favored to down the NYU Violets, 16-8.

A sellout crowd of more than 18,000, including cheering sections from the four schools, is expected to jam Madison Square Garden and contribute to what probably will be the noisiest doubleheader of the season.

"They're so emotional right now, I don't think there is any stopping them," said Ken Norton, referring to St. John's. Norton is coach of the Manhattan Jaspers who lost to Villanova 73-71 in the quarter-finals Monday.

Even Tates Locke, the Army coach, declared of the Redmen "they have been playing the best ball in their emotional state." He smiled and added, "We expect to win just the same." Lapchick made no predictions except that the game will be hard fought.

The winners will meet for the championship Saturday afternoon at 3 p.m. EST after the losers play for third place at 1 p.m.

High School Tourneys Open In West Virginia

The first match of the three-day jamboree begins at 7:30 p.m. and will be followed by another Class AA affair—Clarksburg Roosevelt - Wilson (17-7) against Oceana, undefeated in 24 games.

Class AAA play gets under way Friday night when the Williamson Wolfpack, ranked No. 1 most of the season in the Associated Press poll, takes on Triadelphia, beaten only once in 23 contests.

Class A competition in the 12-team tourney begins Friday afternoon with Fairview (22-3) testing Gary District (22-2) and Bramwell (18-6) meeting Fort Ashby (20-5).

The Class AA championship game is scheduled for 1 p. m. Saturday, followed by the Class A final at 3 p. m.

ALONZO STAGG

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP) — Amos Alonzo Stagg died Wednesday at the age of 102, yet his contributions to football must live as long as there is a game.

The pioneer All-America who coached 70 years, 41 of them at the University of Chicago, succumbed to uremia in a rest home. He had lived there since 1962, just two years after failing eyesight forced his final retirement.

Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon in Stockton's Central Methodist Church with interment near his beloved widow, Stella, who died last July 22.

Students from Amos Alonzo Stagg High School will hold a special memorial service Friday at the University of the Pacific stadium.

A star baseball pitcher and football end at Yale, Stagg became the University of Chicago's first coach in 1892 and held the post until he reached mandatory retirement age in 1932. Instead of accepting an honorary post, Stagg became, at 70, the football coach of Pacific.

In 1943, Stagg's team lost only to Southern California and the Football Coaches Association named him Coach of the Year at 81. He also is a member of Football's Hall of Fame.

Lynn O. Waldorf, former president of the coaches association, declared, "I don't know anyone who contributed more to football and I don't know anyone who enjoyed the absolute respect of his associates more than Mr. Stagg."

Born at West Orange, N.J., Aug. 16, 1862, before football was invented, Stagg attended Exeter Academy and then Yale. He studied for the ministry but gave up that ambition when he felt his voice not suited to preaching.

He demanded clean living and didn't smoke or drink. In deference to his longstanding rules, no liquor was served at his 100th birthday celebration, a large civic banquet in Stockton in 1962.

After 41 years at Chicago and 15 at Pacific, he assisted his elder son, Amos Alonzo Jr., for six years at Susquehanna in Pennsylvania and later became advisory coach at Stockton College, a two-year school.

U.S. Royal introduces
The rain tire™
The non-skid tire

You never know when it's going to rain.
You never know when a friendly road is going to turn into something wet and slick and treacherous.

With a set of rain tires on your car, you'll be able to stop 30% shorter on a rain-slicked road than you could when your car was brand new.
(That's how much difference there is, on a wet road, between the rain tire and the tires that originally came with the '64, '63 or '62 cars. If you own a '61 or earlier car, the improvement will be even more dramatic.)

On a wet curve: 50% more skid resistance.
And when you accelerate on a wet road, you'll have 20% better traction than you had when your car was brand new.
Figures can't tell you, though, what it feels like to drive on rain tires.
Your car will handle in the rain like it never handled before. Surer of itself. More responsive. Making contact with a good, solid hunk of road that each rain tire has squeegeed dry.
But what's it like when the sun comes out?
We knew you'd ask that.
And we're glad you did. Because you'll have even better control in passing or in cornering than you had when your car was brand new. On a dry road.
Other side benefits: Less wander when you drive down a straight road at 70 or 80. Practically no "trolley tracking" when you ride in and out of an expansion strip on the highway. About 10% longer wearing than our 1964 first-line tire.

If this tire sounds just too good to be true, and you expect to have to pay the price in a rough or noisy ride (or in money), you're wrong.
It comes as Original Equipment on some of the most prestigious 1965 cars. Which means that it has to be quiet and smooth-riding, because there's nobody with a more sensitive bottom than the test drivers who evaluate the new models in Detroit.

So don't give us a hard time if the tire we bring out says Laredo.
Give us a hard time if it doesn't.
U.S. Royal

St. John's Seeks Revenge

NIT Squads Will Battle For Final Spots Tonight

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — There will be Indian war whoops and the beat of drums as the emotional-charged St. John's University Redmen battle Army and top-seeded Villanova encounters NYU in the semifinals of the National Invitation basketball tournament tonight.

The Redmen, 18-8, have vowed to win the NIT as a present for the Big Indian, Coach Joe Lapchick who is retiring at the end of the season at the age of 65. And despite a two-point 58-56 defeat at West Point during the regular season the Redmen are favored to whip the Cadets, 20-8, this time.

Villanova, 22-4 and eighth ranked in the final Associated Press poll of the season, similarly is favored to down the NYU Violets, 16-8.

A sellout crowd of more than 18,000, including cheering sections from the four schools, is expected to jam Madison Square Garden and contribute to what probably will be the noisiest doubleheader of the season.

"They're so emotional right now, I don't think there is any stopping them," said Ken Norton, referring to St. John's. Norton is coach of the Manhattan Jaspers who lost to Villanova 73-71 in the quarter-finals Monday.

Even Tates Locke, the Army coach, declared of the Redmen "they have been playing the best ball in their emotional state." He smiled and added, "We expect to win just the same." Lapchick made no predictions except that the game will be hard fought.

The winners will meet for the championship Saturday afternoon at 3 p.m. EST after the losers play for third place at 1 p.m.

High School Tourneys Open In West Virginia

The first match of the three-day jamboree begins at 7:30 p.m. and will be followed by another Class AA affair—Clarksburg Roosevelt - Wilson (17-7) against Oceana, undefeated in 24 games.

Williamstown won 21 of 25 games during the regular season while Ceredo - Kenova's Wonders lost only three of 25 games.

Class AAA play gets under way Friday night when the Williamson Wolfpack, ranked No. 1 most of the season in the Associated Press poll, takes on Triadelphia, beaten only once in 23 contests.

Williamson moved up to the big school classification this year after winning the 1964 Class AA title. The Wolfpack has a 24-0 record.

Elkins (20-4) and Beckley (17-6) make up the second half of the triple-A card Friday night.

Class A competition in the 12-team tourney begins Friday afternoon with Fairview (22-3) testing Gary District (22-2) and Bramwell (18-6) meeting Fort Ashby (20-5).

The Class AA championship game is scheduled for 1 p. m. Saturday, followed by the Class A final at 3 p. m.

ALONZO STAGG

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP) — Amos Alonzo Stagg died Wednesday at the age of 102, yet his contributions to football must live as long as there is a game.

The pioneer All-America who coached 70 years, 41 of them at the University of Chicago, succumbed to uremia in a rest home. He had lived there since 1962, just two years after failing eyesight forced his final retirement.

Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon in Stockton's Central Methodist Church with interment near his beloved widow, Stella, who died last July 22.

Students from Amos Alonzo Stagg High School will hold a special memorial service Friday at the University of the Pacific stadium.

A star baseball pitcher and football end at Yale, Stagg became the University of Chicago's first coach in 1892 and held the post until he reached mandatory retirement age in 1932. Instead of accepting an honorary post, Stagg became, at 70, the football coach of Pacific.

In 1943, Stagg's team lost only to Southern California and the Football Coaches Association named him Coach of the Year at 81. He also is a member of Football's Hall of Fame.

Lynn O. Waldorf, former president of the coaches association, declared, "I don't know anyone who contributed more to football and I don't know anyone who enjoyed the absolute respect of his associates more than Mr. Stagg."

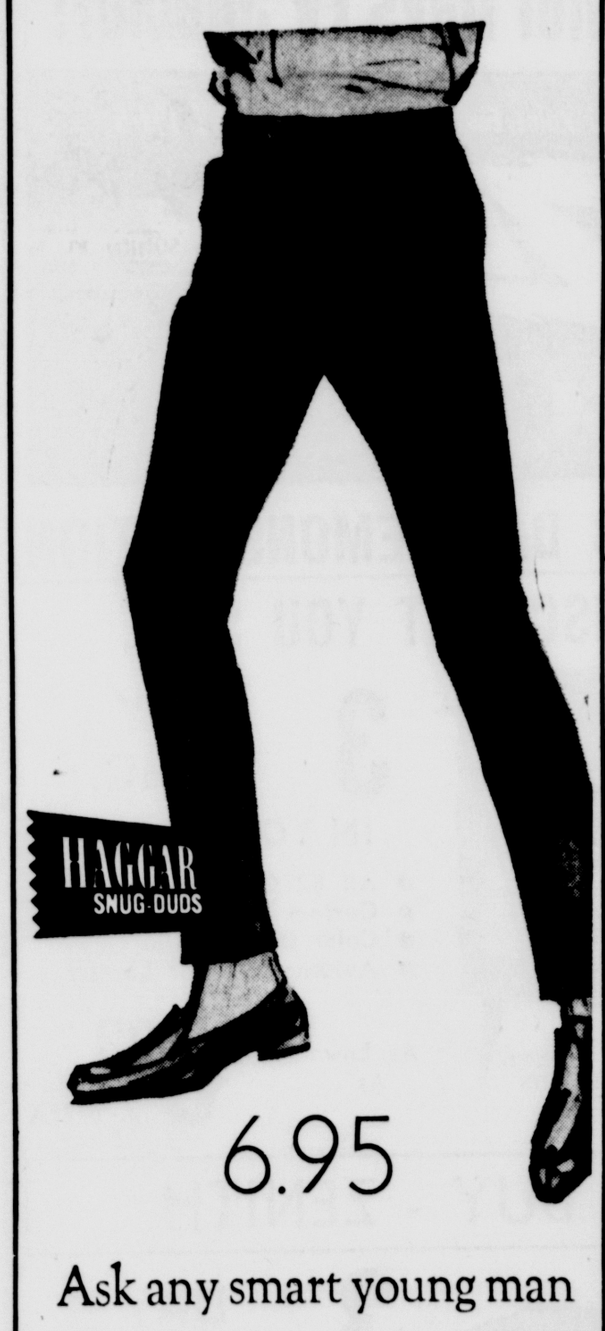

Born at West Orange, N.J., Aug. 16, 1862, before football was invented, Stagg attended Exeter Academy and then Yale. He studied for the ministry but gave up that ambition when he felt his voice not suited to preaching.

"I felt specially called to preach," he recalled, "but I decided to do it on the football field."

He demanded clean living and didn't smoke or drink. In deference to his longstanding rules, no liquor was served at his 100th birthday celebration, a large civic banquet in Stockton in 1962.

After 41 years at Chicago and 15 at Pacific, he assisted his elder son, Amos Alonzo Jr., for six years at Susquehanna in Pennsylvania and later became advisory coach at Stockton College, a two-year school.

The rain tire™

You never know when it's going to rain.

You never know when a friendly road is going to turn into something wet and slick and treacherous.

That's the whole idea behind the rain tire. You're ready for it whenever and wherever it happens.

On a wet, slippery road: 30% shorter stops.

With a set of rain tires on your car, you'll be able to stop 30% shorter on a rain-slicked road than you could when your car was brand new.

(That's how much difference there is, on a wet road, between the rain tire and the tires that originally came with the '64, '63 or '62 cars. If you own a '61 or earlier car, the improvement will be even more dramatic.)

On a wet curve, you'll hold the road 50% better than you could when your car was brand new.

On a wet curve: 50% more skid resistance.

And when you accelerate on a wet road, you'll have 20% better traction than you had when your car was brand new.

Your car will handle in the rain like it never handled before. Surer of itself. More responsive. Making contact with a good, solid hunk of road that each rain tire has squeegeed dry.

But what's it like when the sun comes out?

We knew you'd ask that.

And we're glad you did. Because you'll have even better control in passing or in cornering than you had when your car was brand new. On a dry road.

Other side benefits: Less wander when you drive down a straight road at 70 or 80. Practically no "trolley tracking" when you ride in and out of an expansion strip on the highway. About 10% longer wearing than our 1964 first-line tire.

On a dry road: surer control when you pass or corner.

If this tire sounds just too good to be true, and you expect to have to pay the price in a rough or noisy ride (or in money), you're wrong.

It comes as Original Equipment on some of the most prestigious 1965 cars. Which means that it has to be quiet and smooth-riding, because there's nobody with a more sensitive bottom than the test drivers who evaluate the new models in Detroit.

The ride: So quiet and smooth, it's original equipment on many '65s.

So don't give us a hard time if the tire we bring out says Laredo.

No Award For Commentators

The Alfred I. Du Pont Awards Foundation has found the state of editorial commentary in radio and television so discouraging that, for the first time in its 23-year history, it has decided to name no recipient for its annual commentator award.

Richard Doan

"American broadcasting," the awards committee said at Lexington, Va., "appears to be giving decreasing encouragement to the type of public service represented by the so-called commentator . . . who is willing to give forthright expression to his personal insights and convictions."

"WE ARE AWARE," the statement continued, "of some of the reasons why broadcasting, especially television, has diminished the role of the personal 'commentator' in favor of group news enterprise and the institutionalized editorial.

"We are not persuaded that these reasons always reflect a consideration for the best interests of the American public or, ultimately, for the best interests of American broadcasting."

The committee added that it wished to "call attention to the distinction that personal commentary often has brought to the American press, and often to broadcasting itself, and suggest that the broadcasting industry, as well as educational broadcasters, give renewed consideration to the commentator function."

BOB HOPE, still the biggest TV star of them all, is safely in NBC's fold for another five years.

A new contract with the comedian quietly was signed several weeks ago. The network does not trumpet such transactions for competitive reasons.

Hope will be doing another round of weekly dramas and comedy specials for NBC next season.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON is not making very abundant use of television, but it's going to be available to him at virtually an instant's notice if he wants it.

The three national TV networks quietly are going ahead with preparations to install permanent "hot line" TV studio facilities in the White House's movie theater.

An earlier plan to convert the so-called Fish Room, just across the hall from the President's office, into a TV studio has been abandoned because the space has been deemed too small.

The movie theater is confining, too, as was demonstrated at a quickly called TV news there several weeks ago. But it is the only available location.

The networks will spend an estimated $1 million setting up the facility and manning it at all hours the President would be likely to want to go on the air.

Needle Pattern

By LAURA WHEELER

Pop a boy and girl into matching sunsuits — perfect for sun 'n' sandbox play.

Wild West cowboy and cowgirl!—tots will love bright embroidery on sunsuits. Pattern 846: transfer heads; printed pattern; sizes 1, 2, 3, 4, incl.

Send 35 cents in coins for this pattern to Needlecraft, in care of the East Liverpool Review, 45 Pattern, P.O. Box 161, Old Chelsea Station, New York 11, N.Y. Print plainly your name, address, and the pattern number. Add 15 cents in coins for each pattern for first - class mailing and special handling.

New Cumberland Masons Fete Set

NEW CUMBERLAND — The first annual Master Masons dinner - dance of New Cumberland Masonic Lodge 22 will be held Friday, March 26, at the Weirton Community Center. Kenneth Kessel, worshipful master, said other Masonic bodies participating will be Hancock County Chapter 14 and Weirton Commandery 30.

Earl Kennison is high priest of Lodge 14, and Walter Manley is commander of the Weirton Commandery. Frank Giebell is general chairman and others serving are Charles Mitchell, John Arbogast, James Swain, Paul Swearingen, Malcolm Graham and Elmer Flowers. The dinner and dance are open to all members of the Masonic bodies of the Tri-State area and reservations will be accepted through Saturday.

Reservations may be sent to Masonic Dinner - Dance Committee, 921 2nd Ave., New Cumberland. Dinner will be served at 6:30. The dance will start at 8:30 with the Paul Campbell orchestra providing the music. Dorothy Manning is the vocalist with the Campbell group.

8 Girls, Man Injured In Head-On Collision

CLEVELAND (AP) — Eight teen-age girls and a 49-year-old man were injured in a head-on crash on Bagley Road in Middleburg Heights Wednesday night.

Cincinnati's Council Acts On Rights Matter

CINCINNATI (AP) — City Council took action Wednesday on two matters dealing with civil rights and race relations:

It adopted a resolution condemning the brutal treatment of civil rights workers in Alabama and pledging council's support of full equality for all citizens of Cincinnati. And it replaced the old Mayor's Friendly Relations Committee with a new Cincinnati Human Relations Commission.

Out Of The Air

By RICHARD K. DOAN

No Award For Commentators

The Alfred I. Du Pont Awards Foundation has found the state of editorial commentary in radio and television so discouraging that, for the first time in its 23-year history, it has decided to name no recipient for its annual commentator award.

Richard Doan

"American broadcasting," the awards committee said at Lexington, Va., "appears to be giving decreasing encouragement to the type of public service represented by the so-called commentator . . . who is willing to give forthright expression to his personal insights and convictions."

"WE ARE AWARE," the statement continued, "of some of the reasons why broadcasting, especially television, has diminished the role of the personal 'commentator' in favor of group news enterprise and the institutionalized editorial.

"We are not persuaded that these reasons always reflect a consideration for the best interests of the American public or, ultimately, for the best interests of American broadcasting."

The committee added that it wished to "call attention to the distinction that personal commentary often has brought to the American press, and often to broadcasting itself, and suggest that the broadcasting industry, as well as educational broadcasters, give renewed consideration to the commentator function."

Network news officials in New York had no immediate comment on the foundation's announcement.

BOB HOPE, still the biggest TV star of them all, is safely in NBC's fold for another five years.

A new contract with the comedian quietly was signed several weeks ago. The network does not trumpet such transactions for competitive reasons.

Hope will be doing another round of weekly dramas and comedy specials for NBC next season.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON is not making very abundant use of television, but it's going to be available to him at virtually an instant's notice if he wants it.

The three national TV networks quietly are going ahead with preparations to install permanent "hot line" TV studio facilities in the White House's movie theater.

An earlier plan to convert the so-called Fish Room, just across the hall from the President's office, into a TV studio has been abandoned because the space has been deemed too small.

The movie theater is confining, too, as was demonstrated at a quickly called TV news there several weeks ago. But it is the only available location.

The networks will spend an estimated $1 million setting up the facility and manning it at all hours the President would be likely to want to go on the air.

U.S. Photos 'Zero In' On Red Targets

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Months of careful photo reconnaissance of Communist North Viet Nam by Air Force and Navy have given U.S. officials detailed knowledge of all targets worth hitting there, sources said today.

It is known that Air Force RF101 Voodoo jets have flown over North Viet Nam at both high and low altitudes, their high-speed cameras taking thousands of pictures.

They have collected shots of troop barracks and training centers, ammunition and fuel dumps, gun positions, roads, railroads, airfields, power installations, industrial complexes and the like.

Navy F8 Crusaders and RA5C Vigilantes have taken off from U.S. carriers in the South China Sea to range along the North Vietnamese coast photographing port facilities, torpedo boat bases and other potential targets.

Aircraft can take clear shots from 30,000 feet aloft and higher or from close to the ground at 400 miles an hour or faster.

The 37mm antiaircraft guns, the most common weapons used by the North Vietnamese, can reach up only about 10,000 feet, experts say.

India, with a 1964 population of 468.5 million, gains an additional 10 million people each year.

Ex-Film Star Under Treatment At Hospital

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Attendants at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital have disclosed that silent film star Jack Mulhall, 70, is under treatment for cirrhosis of the liver and a bladder condition.

The actor has been hospitalized for a month, but this wasn't made public until Wednesday.

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Months of careful photo reconnaissance of Communist North Viet Nam by Air Force and Navy have given U.S. officials detailed knowledge of all targets worth hitting there, sources said today.

The North Vietnamese and the Communist Chinese have not complained openly about these activites.

It is known that Air Force RF101 Voodoo jets have flown over North Viet Nam at both high and low altitudes, their high-speed cameras taking thousands of pictures.

They have collected shots of troop barracks and training centers, ammunition and fuel dumps, gun positions, roads, railroads, airfields, power installations, industrial complexes and the like.

Navy F8 Crusaders and RA5C Vigilantes have taken off from U.S. carriers in the South China Sea to range along the North Vietnamese coast photographing port facilities, torpedo boat bases and other potential targets.

U.S. reconnaissance planes are equipped with sensitive color and black and white film that can reveal camouflage, infrared film of piercing darkness, and electronic censors able to detect warning radar or gunpointing radar.

Aircraft can take clear shots from 30,000 feet aloft and higher or from close to the ground at 400 miles an hour or faster.

The 37mm antiaircraft guns, the most common weapons used by the North Vietnamese, can reach up only about 10,000 feet, experts say.

India, with a 1964 population of 468.5 million, gains an additional 10 million people each year.

Proceeding of the Courts

Common Pleas

NEW ENTRIES

J. S. Gleason Jr., administrator of Veterans' Affairs, vs. Herman S. Kinsey Jr., et al; finding for plaintiff against defendants for $7,568.19 and costs, order for foreclosure and sale.

NEW CASES

New Waterford Bank vs. Hurchel Coffmen, Warren and Betty Coffman, New Waterford, et al; action for $1,247 claimed due on promissory note and foreclosure of mortgage.

Home Savings & Loan Co., Youngstown, vs. Francis J. and Elsie L. Strader, Salem; action for $9,121.64 claimed due on promissory note and foreclosure of mortgage.

Same vs. Warren J. and Dorothy M. Ripple, Salem; action for $5,513.09 claimed due on promissory note and foreclosure of mortgage.

Governmental workers, at the local, state and federal levels, have increased from nearly six million in 1942 to more than nine million in 1962, according to Tax Foundation, Inc.

Ex-Film Star Under Treatment At Hospital

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Attendants at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital have disclosed that silent film star Jack Mulhall, 70, is under treatment for cirrhosis of the liver and a bladder condition.

The actor has been hospitalized for a month, but this wasn't made public until Wednesday.

CLOWNS

QUESTION: Who were the first clowns?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: The ancestors of clowns were actors in Greek and Roman days who wore padded clothes and acted stupidly to amuse the audience. It seems that people just have to have a bit of foolishness around. Kings and courts of many countries adopted the habit of having gay entertainers to amuse them, such as the jester we show, with his cap and bells. These "fools" were often very smart and held their position in the king's household by keen wit as well as by gay appearance. The famous character of pantomime, "Harlequin," with his traditional costume covered with large diamond-shaped blocks of color, began to be seen in Italy in the 1500's and paved the way for the appearance of the clown as we know him today. Joseph Grimaldi, the original of the circus clown, was the one who started the tradition of painting the face white. His nickname "Jooey" became so famous that even now circus clowns are often spoken of as "Jooeys." Clowns are used to bring relief between the daring acts of the circus. The regular performers succeed in what they attempt, the clowns fail, which is one reason why they are so funny.

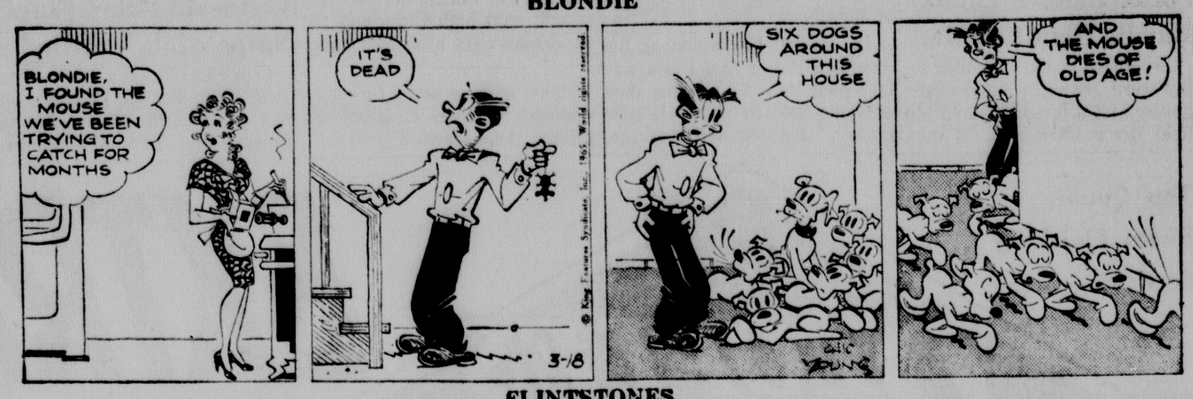

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Each clown has his special "face" or way of making up so he looks funny. Make a drawing to give your own idea of a funny clown's face.

Police Believe Torso May Be Hamilton Man

CINCINNATI (AP)—Police today were investigating the possibility that a torso found on the Ohio River bank Feb. 28 may be that of Benny Ray Closs, 43, of Hamilton.

Lt. Harold Carpenter of the Hamilton Police said Closs was last seen Feb. 6 and was then carrying $600 to $700 "vacation money." Sgt. Russell Jackson, chief of the Cincinnati homicide squad, said both Closs and the dead man were of slender build.

Heart disease and strokes claimed the lives of about one million Americans a year.

Conneaut Police Chief Suspension Nullified

CONNEAUT, Ohio (AP)—The city's Civil Service Commission has nullified the suspension of Police Chief Jack W. Sanford, who was suspended March 12 by Mayor Stanley Robertson for failure to obey orders in submitting requisitions.

The ruling came Wednesday, following a claim by Mayor Robertson that Chief Sanford had spent $1,000 without requisition to repair a police car.

Police Believe Torso May Be Hamilton Man

CINCINNATI (AP)—Police today were investigating the possibility that a torso found on the Ohio River bank Feb. 28 may be that of Benny Ray Closs, 43, of Hamilton.

Lt. Harold Carpenter of the Hamilton Police said Closs was last seen Feb. 6 and was then carrying $600 to $700 "vacation money." Sgt. Russell Jackson, chief of the Cincinnati homicide squad, said both Closs and the dead man were of slender build.

Heart disease and strokes claimed the lives of about one million Americans a year.

Conneaut Police Chief Suspension Nullified

CONNEAUT, Ohio (AP)—The city's Civil Service Commission has nullified the suspension of Police Chief Jack W. Sanford, who was suspended March 12 by Mayor Stanley Robertson for failure to obey orders in submitting requisitions.

The ruling came Wednesday, following a claim by Mayor Robertson that Chief Sanford had spent $1,000 without requisition to repair a police car.

There are more than 50 kinds of oak trees in North America alone, the most important of which being the white oak which grows from Canada to the Gulf of Mexico, and westward to Texas.
